TRIBUNAL RULING

Draft Challenge For Collegians

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Supreme Court declared today that college students who lose their deferments and are ordered into service as draft delinquents are entitled to fight the action in the courts prior to induction.

The unanimous, 8-0 ruling repudiated an argument by Attorney General John M. Mitchell that war protesters and others could not challenge their reclassification before being summoned into the service.

The law has given the ordinary draftee no recourse but to refuse induction and subject himself to criminal prosecution or to submit and try to get out of uniform afterward through a habeas corpus proceeding.

But today's majority opinion by Justice Hugo L. Black held that college students who lose their deferred status by action of a draft board can challenge the reclassification by a civil suit.

The ruling came in a case involving Timothy J. Breen of Bridgeport, Conn., an undergraduate at the Berkeley School of Music in Boston. He was declared a delinquent and classified 1A after he handed in his draft card at a Vietnam protest meeting.

In other actions, the Court:

—Rejected without comment a move by Gov. Claude R. Kirk Jr., of Florida to delay the court-ordered Feb. 1 deadline for school desegregation ordered 14 school districts in Florida and four other southern states. Kirk had sought reconsideration of the deadline order.

—Ruled against a group of Negroes who sought to prevent closing of a once all-white public park in Macon, Ga. The park had been willed to the city by a former Confederate soldier on condition it be segregated. The Supreme Court ruled previously that the city could not maintain the park on a segregated basis and city authorities moved to return the land to the heirs of the donor. The Negro plaintiffs sought to block the move but lost their appeal in today's decision.

In the draft case, Mitchell had submitted the government's arguments to the court after Solicitor General Erwin N. Griswold refused to sign the brief.

Justice Black held however that the court found no

Richardson Bay Harbor Plan Hit

Conservationists turned out in force Saturday to voice objections to the City of Mill Valley's proposed development of a yacht harbor on upper Richardson Bay.

Conservationists dominated the meeting called to discuss the harbor, while city officials sat back, listened and ventured few opinions.

Dr. Joel F. Gustafson, professor of ecology at San Francisco State College and a Mill Valley resident, warned extensive development could upset an important ecological balance in the area.

He said the harbor would eliminate the last remaining cord grass in Richardson Bay, pointing out the grass feeds small organisms which in turn are the food of smaller fish. He went on to say that game fish eat the smaller fish and could be exterminated in the Bay if the remaining grass is removed.

Joseph E. Bodovitz, executive director of the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission, said the reason Mill Valley has severe flooding is that marshlands were filled in the past. "The marshland acts like a giant sponge," he said.

Elizabeth Terwilliger drew applause from the audience with a description of what the marshland contains in the way of flora and fauna and what extinction of the mudflats would mean to wildlife.

Jean Nooney of the Mill Valley Boat Club, who teaches sailing, said a commercial harbor would close access to the water for many persons. "With a yacht harbor you will have parking lots, and fences with gates and locks," she told the group.

Bodovitz touched on a problem which appeared to concern most of the conservationists: if a harbor is developed, should it be limited to small nonmotor-powered boats or opened to power boats and large Bay craft?

"If we think a marshland is worth preserving, how can we put in a power boat harbor with its resultant oil spills and other pollution?" he asked.

Saving "the only marshland we have left" should be a very high priority in any harbor development," added Ivan S. Poutiatine, Mill Valley planning commissioner.

"Let's show our kids we are not just interested in building on every possible inch to get a tax base," said Mrs. Kay Spitler, representing the American Association of University Women.

Mayor Dean N. Meyer reminded the conservationists the city must find some middle ground and must take economic considerations into account.

Meyer said the city will study the suggestions and recommendations and noted the matter will be discussed at further meetings, before the city council and planning commission.

Marin Man Figure In Big Pot Deal

Mill Valleyan, 26, Held In $1 Million Cache Of Drug

I-J Special Report

LAS VEGAS, N.M. — A 26-year-old Mill Valley man, identified by authorities only as Francisco (Paco) Grande, is being held in connection with a suspected $1 million marijuana cache found near a twin-engine plane which crashed at the Las Vegas airport yesterday.

State police have hinted a second person is being sought in connection with the find. No charge has been filed against Grande, for whom no address was given.

The plane, a nine-passenger Cessna 402, made a wheels-up landing at the airport Sunday and was abandoned by the pilot. The suspected marijuana, estimated to be worth over $1 million on the open market, was packed in 40 23-pound boxes found 110 feet away from the crash.

Another cache of marijuana was found in a suitcase stuffed in a waste basket in the terminal building.

Federal narcotics agents said they were investigating the possibility of a conspiracy to import the marijuana from outside the United States. Investigation revealed the plane was rented from Peninsula Aviation of San Carlos, Calif.

State Police Sgt. Jim Clayton said the plane carried only a small amount of fuel when it was found. He theorized the pilot had to make an emergency landing because of the low fuel.

The plane skidded along the runway on its belly, but was not seriously damaged. Clayton said the suspect showed no sign of injury which could have been attributed to a plane crash. The plane was discovered on the runway by James Craig, a flight service employe, who contacted State Police.

Clayton and Craig investigated the crash and then located the 23-pound boxes of suspected marijuana stashed in tall weeds near the plane.

Police, Escaping Thief Trade Fire

Sausalito police today were seeking a long-haired young man who fired at two police officers who interrupted an attempted burglary on Santa Rosa Avenue, then escaped into a wooded canyon area north of Spencer Avenue and west of Highway 101.

Police from San Rafael, Fairfax, Corte Madera, Mill Valley, Belvedere and Marin sheriff's deputies joined in a foot search of the area. About two hours after the search began, sheriff's deputy Michael McLean, patroling with a bloodhound, exchanged gunfire with the man. Police said he may have been wounded by the deputy's shots.

By 4 a.m. today the search, which was joined by a California Highway Patrol helicopter, was limited to routine patrols of the area by Sausalito officers.

The chase began shortly before 9 p.m. yesterday when police responded to a silent alarm in the David Redmond residence, 237 Santa Rosa Avenue.

As the officers began searching the house, a dark-haired man ran into the street and headed toward a 1969 black and white auto parked down the street.

Police fired when the man refused to halt and he returned three to five shots, then jumped a 15-foot embankment and fled into underbrush.

A check of the car revealed it had been stolen last night in San Bruno after being leased in the Santa Rosa area. In the auto police recovered two television sets and stereo equipment stolen in two other Sausalito burglaries yesterday.

Police said the man had attempted to enter the kitchen of the two-story Redmond home, but abandoned the attempt because a ladder he was using sank in soft ground and he instead pried open a glass patio door.

The man is described as in his 20s, six feet tall, 150-155 pounds, with shoulder-length hair and wearing a dark leather jacket and dark pants.

Redmond was not in the house when the attempted burglary occurred.

Reagan Has Bagley's Tax Reform Support

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Reagan had the important backing today of two sometimes "maverick" Republicans for the general outline of his 1970 tax reform program.

The support came from GOP State Controller Houston I. Flournoy and Chairman William T. Bagley of the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee.

Bagley, R-San Rafael, said he had agreed to sponsor the tax package when it is introduced, probably around the end of January.

Flournoy said he expects to be able to support most, if not all, of the governor's program, in the final stages of negotiation between the GOP governor and his financial experts on one hand and the Republican legislative leadership and their fiscal experts on the other.

The program is expected to offer up to $1 billion in property tax relief to California homeowners and renters. Increased state income and sales taxes are expected to provide the bulk of replacement revenues for the lost property taxes.

Flournoy headed a blue-ribbon tax reform commission for the governor last year, but Reagan rejected some of Flournoy's key proposals outright, including mandatory withholding of income taxes.

Bagley, also a withholding advocate, was openly critical of parts of the governor's program last year and the package failed to get out of committee.

Bagley plans to have a withholding bill again this year, but said he would not push it as a part of the governor's tax program.

Flournoy said he expects the program to contain these general concepts:

— An increase of the homeowner's current property tax exemption, when it was granted two years ago, provided an average $70 property tax break.

— The state would take over some county programs, possibly welfare administration, thus relieving the counties of the need to raise property tax levels to keep up with those programs.

— A statewide equalized property tax for schools designed to put poorer school districts on a more even financial footing with the wealthier ones.

— The closing of some tax loopholes, including the reduction of the oil depletion allowance from 27½ per cent to 23 per cent.

Bagley said there is agreement on the general concepts of the program. Negotiation of details is expected to take another week. Then comes the drafting of the proposals into actual bills.

Meanwhile, the lawmakers returned for the fourth week of the 1970 session.

So far, action has been limited to introduction of bills, organizational matters, and political maneuvering in this election year.

The constitution prevents the lawmakers from holding committee hearings on bills until one month after they have been introduced.

The Legislature and Reagan face tax reform competition from two outside sources.

The Sun's Due To Fade Out Again

Sunny skies that shone over Marin during the last two days are expected to darken as another storm heads toward rain-drenched Northern California.

Rain is expected to sweep as far south as Monterey and Merced tonight.

A storm predicted for Saturday and yesterday failed to appear and Marin residents have had a brief time to dry out following a record of 19 consecutive days of rain that ended Saturday.

Three homes in Tamalpais Valley and Mill Valley and one in Fairfax have been destroyed during the last storm, according to Robert L. Humphreys, chairman of the Marin Red Cross disaster services committee. Eight families were forced to evacuate their homes across the county due to flooding and 36 more homes were damaged, he said.

Eighteen business in the county were also affected by the storm, Humphreys said and 40 families have suffered severe storm damage.

Nate Thurmond Is Bowing Out

Thurmond, the 6-11 center for the San Francisco Warriors and one of the National Basketball Association's great rebounders, said he was quitting because of recurring injuries.

But the 28-year-old player, who is out for the rest of this season with his knee injury, left the door ajar for a return to the pro wars next year.

Emergency Round Held On Murky West Marin Water

County officials and West Marin residents met yesterday afternoon at the Civic Center to solve a water supply emergency in Point Reyes Station and Inverness Park where the domestic water is murky and smelly or nonexistent.

Louis H. Baar, acting chairman of the Marin County Board of Supervisors, called the emergency session in the absence of chairman John F. McInnis, who was out of county. Officials of the North Marin Water District also attended.

Residents complained that in Point Reyes Station, the water has been black, murky and smelly for several days, and Inverness Park had no water at all yesterday because streams feeding the water tank had apparently been clogged by storm debris.

County Administrator Alan Bruce said the water is supplied in the two communities by a private firm owned by Joseph J. Downey of Penngrove.

The group agreed on the following actions, subject to confirmation by the county supervisors when it meets tomorrow:

1. Baar declared Point Reyes Station and Inverness Park as disaster areas and asked the Marin Flood Control and Water Conservation District to rent portable filtration plants and pumps as needed to clean up the water supply on a temporary basis at Point Reyes Station. The bill will be sent to Downey.

2. In Inverness Park, maintenance crews will be sent to install pumps and other equipment as needed, unless Downey himself does the work. North Marin Water District will assist.

3. A complaint will be lodged to the state Public Utilities Commission concerning Downey's water company.

For a more long-term solution, the North Marin Water District will start proceedings to set up a water supply improvement district in West Marin. Bruce said this will involve an engineering study to determine what the needs are for a proper water system and the cost of such a system, and ultimate acquisition of the private water company and its improvements.

West Marin residents who met yesterday were Waldo Giacomini, Toby Giacomini, Harold Genazzi, and Charles Reilley. Bruce, County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney, health officer Carolyn Albrecht, and William Desmond of the Marin County Department of Environmental Health, and officials of North Marin Water District attended.

Removing No-Strike Pledge Is Approved

SACRAMENTO (AP)— The California State Employes' Association announced today its local chapters have approved removing the no-strike pledge from its constitution.

"This does not mean the association is going on strike or planning a strike," said Robert Carlson, president of the 110,000-member association, "but it does indicate dissatisfaction to the public and administration with our lagging salaries."

Thieu Hints Of Go-Alone Viet Policy

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu, defending his oft-criticized regime, appealed tonight for continued aid from friendly nations, but said he will go his own way if the allies' policies are not in accord those of South Vietnam.

In a major speech to newsmen and the Saigon diplomatic corps, Thieu said that his countrymen must accept "a certain discipline" in wartime.

"We cannot let the Communists take advantage of our freedoms in our institutions to create disturbances, to cause confusion and to jeopardize our security," he added.

He said South Vietnam must gradually achieve self-sufficiency and self-support, but called for additional help from the allies.

"... To lose South Vietnam,"

Biggest B52 Raid In Nine Months

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers made their heaviest raids in nine months overnight, attacking North Vietnamese supply depots inside Laos, across the frontier in the A Shau Valley and farther south along the Cambodian border.

About 60 B52s, four-fifths of the Strategic Air Command's bomber fleet in Asia, flew from bases in Thailand, Guam and Okinawa to drop nearly 2,000 tons of explosives.

The targets of the raids were North Vietnamese supplies being moved into South Vietnam.

The raids on Laos and the A Shau Valley were ordered after trucks were sighted in the valley for the first time in more than a year.

A number of trucks, presumably carrying war supplies for North Vietnamese troops in South Vietnam, were sighted Saturday night and Sunday moving through the 30-mile-long valley.

American bombers, helicopter gunships and artillery attacked the trucks and a warehouse. The U.S. Command said 14 North Vietnamese soldiers were killed, but heavy enemy machine-gun fire kept American spotter pilots from assessing the damage to the trucks and warehouses.

Later the B52s went after the North Vietnamese depots in Laos that receive supplies coming down the Ho Chi Minh Trail and feed them across the border to the A Shau Valley, the biggest North Vietnamese supply base area in South Vietnam.

Official sources said truck movement along the Ho Chi Minh Trail is "very heavy this year, heavier than last year." They said however, that enemy movement always increases at this time of year because it is the dry season.

"They are maintaining this option of launching an offensive," one source said. "Whether they are going to exercise it or how they're going to use it remains to be seen. The enemy didn't maintain his roads and supplies as well during the past monsoon season as he did the previous year and he now has more to catch up with."

The six-month monsoons over Laos, which make many roads impassible, ended in November. Since then, sources report truck traffic is 10 times as great as during the rains. One source said 12,000 to 15,000 trucks were detected along the Ho Chi Minh Trail last month.

In Da Nang, meanwhile, U.S. Marine sources said most Marines who have served nine months or more in Vietnam will be among the 12,900 Leathernecks being withdrawn from Vietnam by April 15. In previous Marine withdrawals, the cutoff time was 11 months.

Exceptions will include men with special skills—chiefly aviation—for whom replacements are scarce and men who extended their normal one-year tours in Vietnam six months.

Cab Driver Killing Linked To Zodiac

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Police are investigating the possibility of a link between the mysterious slayer calling himself Zodiac and the critical wounding of a cab driver.

Charles Jarman, 28, of Daly City, was found Sunday slumped behind the wheel of his cab parked just 10 blocks from where taxi driver Paul Stine, 29, was shot and killed Oct. 11.

Homicide inspector William Armstrong said his department was probing the Jarman shooting and other Zodiac attacks "because of similar circumstances."

After the Stine slaying, Zodiac sent a letter to a newspaper, enclosing a torn scrap of the driver's shirt and saying he had done it.

About two months later, the killer sent a letter to attorney Melvin Belli, saying he had commited eight murders and might claim a ninth victim and possibly a tenth unless he received help.

Police have definitely linked Zodiac to five murders in the San Francisco Bay Area, beginning with the fatal shootings of two teen-agers in a Vallejo lovers lane Dec. 20, 1968.

Armstrong said there were several resemblances between the Stine and Jarman shootings —"The fact that both were Yellow Cabs, tht fact that the drivers were shot in the head and the location."

Police Lt. Robert McKiernan said $35 was missing from Jarman's taxi.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

19 Die In Crash

POSA RICA, Mexico (AP) — Fourteen Mexican newsmen and five other persons were killed Sunday when a plane carrying them on the campaign tour of presidential candidate Luis Echeverria crashed into a hill near Poza Rica, a coastal town 130 miles northeast of Mexico City.

There was one survivor, a newsman who was seriously injured.

The five other dead included the four crewmen of the Convair 240 and a doctor from the PRI, Echeverria's ruling Revolutionary Institutional Party.

It was just three minutes away from the Poza Rica airport when it crashed into La Vega Hill, 40 miles north of the town.

Uganda Leader Killed

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP) — Brig. Pierino Okoya, the commander of the Uganda army's 2nd Infantry Brigade, and his wife were shot dead at their home in Gulu, Northern Uganda, on Sunday.

An official announcement gave no motive for the shootings, which occurred five weeks after an unknown gunman attempted to assassinate President Milton Obote.

Obote is now recovering from face wounds.

Israelis Strike

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli jets struck for more than an hour today at Egyptian mortar and antiaircraft positions along the central sector of the Suez Canal following a weekend of fighting on all Israel's fronts.

The Israelis denied reports that the Arabs shot down three Israeli planes and attacked a radar station Sunday.

Massacre View

SAIGON (AP) — One of South Vietnam's militant Buddhist sects said today its investigation into the alleged massacre at My Lai indicated 394 civilians were killed, 176 disappeared and 25 were wounded.

In a statement from the An Quang Pagoda, the Unified Buddhist Congregation of Vietnam called on the Saigon government to "repent before the people" for its handling of the case. A defense Ministry inquiry last year concluded there was no evidence of a massacre by U.S. troops at My Lai on March 16, 1968.

The Buddhists said their investigation was conducted over several days and included interviews with survivors.

May Resign

BELGRADE (AP) — Premier Oldrich Cernik of Czechoslovakia will submit a forced resignation at a meeting of the Czechoslovak Communist party's central committee Wednesday, the Yugoslav news agency Tanjug reported today from Prague.

Quoting informed sources, the agency said the top party leadership had decided Cernik should also resign from the party presidium. The report noted that Cernik had remained silent during recent economic discussions, while other top party and state leaders were active.

Sources in Prague reported that 10 to 12 members of the central committee will resign during the session.

Near Agreement

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — A United Auto Workers official announced Sunday night tentative agreement on the major issues in the longest U.S. local strike in General Motors' history.

The strike at General Motors' Fisher Body Plant in Flint began last Sept. 24 and has idled nearly 4,000 workers.

Sam Duncan, president of the UAW Local 598, said union and management had reached agreement on the number of men needed to work the assembly lines at the plant.

A GM official said, however, that the questions of how the men will be assigned still must be resolved.

The strike was called in a dispute over production line speeds and work assignments. The agreement came after a marathon series of negotiations through the weekend.

Governor's Son, 19, In Marijuana Arrest

COLLINGSWOOD, N.J. (AP) — Gov. William T. Cahill says he hopes his 19-year-old son John, arrested on charges of possessing marijuana, will be treated "the same as any other young man would be in similar circumstances."

The governor said his son had gone to Philadelphia to visit a friend when he was stopped by a highway patrol officer Saturday night.

"As a result of a routine check," Cahill said Sunday, "he was charged with possession of one cigarette containing marijuana and a small quantity of loose marijuana."

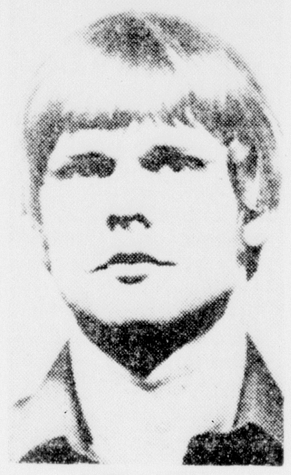
Under Pennsylvania law the charge is a felony and carries a maximum sentence of five years imprisonment.

Police in South Philadelphia, where the arrest was made, said they stopped young Cahill's car after they had observed it circling the block repeatedly.

The governor said he and his wife, the parents of eight children, felt "the same distress and sorrow that any other parent would feel in the same situation and naturally we plan to do everything to help John."

After arraignment, John was released on $200 bail posted by a long-time family friend, New Jersey Secretary of State Paul J. Sherwin, from funds supplied by the governor. A court hearing was set for Feb. 4.

Young Cahill, a graduate of Bishop Eustace High School in Pennsauken, was to have reported today for an Army physical. The examination was postponed indefinitely.



JOHN CAHILL
Routine check

Gov. Cahill was sworn in last Tuesday as New Jersey's first Republican governor in 16 years.

In a campaign white paper Cahill said marijuana is "too often the first step on the ladder to addiction. I believe its use should remain illegal as it is now under the state law."

But Cahill has advocated reduction of the penalties for marijuana use on the grounds it is a social problem rather than a criminal matter.

At the same time, he called for all-out war against narcotics pushers and advocated stiffer penalties for them.

Son Of Exiled Prince Baptized

ROME (AP) — Prince Nicholas, 5-month-old son of exiled Greek King Constantine and Queen Anne-Marie was baptized Sunday at Rome's Greek Orthodox Church.

At the ceremony in addition to the parents were the queen's mother and father, King Frederick and Queen Ingrid of Denmark; Constantine's mother, Queen Frederika of Greece, and his sisters, Princess Irene and Princess Sophie.

Also present were Constantine's and Anne-Marie's other children, Princess Alexia and Crown Prince Paul.

Guilty Plea Entered On Reduced Charge

Peter B. Maggi Jr., 38, of San Rafael has pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court to a reduced misdemeanor charge of passing a bad check. He had originally been accused of two felony charges of possessing bad checks with intent to defraud.

Judge Peter Allen Smith set sentencing for Feb. 20.

Paper Reports Rifle Used In Yablonski Death Found

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Post said today tests have shown that a .30-caliber M1 carbine recovered from the Monongahela River was one of the weapons used to kill United Mine Workers official Joseph Yablonski, his wife and their daughter.

The Post, citing an unnamed source close to the investigation, said the rifle was found in the river about five miles from the Yablonski home at Clarksville, Pa., the site of the slayings.

The Post added that divers were still seeking a .38-caliber pistol also thought to have been used by the killers.

Meanwhile, five U.S. Navy deep sea divers with full equipment arrived at Fredericktown, Pa., near the scene of the river search by FBI agents and civilian scuba divers that began last Friday.

In addition to the rifle, one civilian diver was reported to have brought up Saturday a bag containing wire cutters and ammunition. The FBI and state police officials declined comment on this report.

Pennsylvania authorities were expected to start extradition proceedings for three Cleveland men arrested in their home city last Wednesday and charged with the murders.

The men are Claude E. Vealey, 26, Aubran W. Martin, 21, and Paul E. Gilly, 36. Their lawyers said they would fight extradition.

Former Coal Miner Social Security Plan

Former coal miners disabled by black lung disease and widows and dependent children of men killed by the disease may be eligible for new Social Security benefits, according to Edwin H. Leuin, social security district manager.

Persons in the county who may qualify for the benefits, resulting from the new Federal Coal Mine Health and Safety Act, may contact Leuin at his office, 1245 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

Permissiveness To Be Discussed

A group of concerned parents is expected to demand action tomorrow night from the San Rafael Board of Education on board member Carl J. Brown's attack on permissiveness in schools.

The board meeting will begin at 8 p.m. in the schools' administration building, Third and E streets.

Since his remarks at a board meeting Dec. 9, Brown has been supported by residents in letters to the board and the Independent-Journal.

The Concerned Parents Association is scheduled to give a report on its reaction to Brown's statement at the meeting.

A report on the restoration of the San Rafael High School gymnasium also will be presented.

The president makes appointments to West Point based on recommendations of congressmen, the vice president, the army, air force and military schools.

National Bar Panel Hints Carswell Nod

NEW YORK (AP) — The chairman of the American Bar Association's federal judiciary committee says "there's a lot of basis" for speculation that the committee has approved informally the nomination of G. Harrold Carswell to the U.S. Supreme Court.

After the committee deliberated here Sunday night, Lawrence E. Walsh, the chairman, said of reports that Carswell's nomination had been approved: "If you're going to speculate that way, there's a lot of basis for it. I wouldn't speculate the other way."

He said the committee would announce Tuesday morning whether Carswell, in its view, is "qualified" or "not qualified" to be an associate justice of the Supreme Court. Since the committee began rating Supreme Court nominees in 1956 it has found every one of them qualified.

Meanwhile, in Washington, former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said Carswell should be judged on his record and not for a speech he made while seeking public office in 1948 that endorsed white supremacy.

"I don't think you should hold a man accountable for a speech that he made 20 or 25 years ago under entirely different circumstances," Humphrey said.

"I am sure that the Senate will take a good look at his record. And if that record shows a sense of balance and a sense of openness then he should be confirmed.

"I wouldn't want anyone to be punished by some kind . . . of action which took place years and years ago which may not have any relevance at all to current and contemporary matters."

President Nixon nominated Carswell, 50, a federal appeals court judge for the 5th Circuit in New Orleans, last Monday to fill the Supreme Court vacancy left by the resignation last year of Justice Abe Fortas.

Walsh, a former federal district judge and personal representative of Nixon at the Paris peace talks, said the committee had not made a final decision on Carswell, but would complete its work by telephone.

Lot Splittings Due Discussion

Resubdividing of two lots, each containing a building, will be considered by the San Rafael Planning Commission at its meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at city hall.

The proposed subdivision, at 26-28 Woodland Avenue, calls for the 25-and-75-foot lots owned by Joseph Filippo to become two 50-foot parcels. There is no vertical curb or sidewalk along the frontage.

The commission will also consider resubdividing into three lots a parcel owned by Lorna Bowman containing two single family dwellings at 1434 and 1436 Grand Avenue.

Officers for 1970 will also be elected at the meeting.

Groundwork Goals Laid For School

Trustees, staff and residents of the Bolinas-Stinson School District board have laid groundwork in two days of meetings for writing of new and revised educational goals for the district, Supt. C. B. Larison reported today.

The meetings were held Friday and Saturday, conducted by Wayne Brannan, representative of the North Bay PACE Center, an educational cooperative.

Larison said the sessions were attended by the district's nine teachers, administrative staff and three members of the community. Four members of the district board attended the Friday meeting and all were present Saturday.

"Great stress was placed on the need for developing district goals around which instructional objectives can be written," Larison said. Further meetings of the staff are scheduled, he said, with a board-staff session at 5 p.m. Feb. 2 at Bolinas School.

Larison said the meetings did not delve into specific changes that might be made in the instructional program.

Use Of Water At 9.6 Billion Gallons In 1969

The Marin Municipal Water District pumped approximately 9.6 billion gallons to 49,692 customers in 1969 and pumped 40 million gallons per day regularly during the summer for the first time in the district's history, the district's annual report indicates.

The report said that the district first had a 40-million-gallon day in 1966, had 13 such days in 1968 but 40 million gallon days became "common occurrence" during 1969.

The report said that there were 470 new hookups in 1969 bringing the total number of persons served to an estimated 170,000 through the 49,692 hookups.

Revenue from the sale of water amounted to $3,844,160 and 61 per cent of this was spent on operation; 21 per cent went to pay off bond and interest redemption, and 17 per cent went for capital improvement. One per cent went for miscellaneous expense.

Tax Election Due Discussion

The Dixie School District board will discuss preparations for the April 14 tax increase election at its meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the district administration office, 35 Trellis Drive, San Rafael.

The board at its Jan. 15 meeting approved placing a 50-cent increase in the general operating tax rate and a 2 percent hike in bond interest on the April ballot.

Administrative staff members and school principals will also report on how funds are allocated and spent in their schools. A report on the social science program in the district will also be presented.

Five out of every 10 passenger cars in the world are in the United States, says the Automobile Legal Association.

he said, "means the deterioriation of a whole big and secure rear, namely the free world.

"Right at the moment when the Republic of Vietnam needs the support of the allies in this fierce struggle, the government ... is not submissive. Neither will it one day follow the allies' policy if we see that such policy or the timing of it is not in accordance with our national interests."

He did not hint at what possible differences he had in mind.

Thieu was addressing a dinner meeting of the Association of Vietnamese Newspaper Editors. Members of his Cabinet, foreign newsmen and members of diplomatic missions also attended. Among them was U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker.

The main thrusts of his speech were aimed at those here and abroad who say he is running an essentially one-man regime, and at the frequently critical—and often stifled—local press.

He said: "In South Vietnam, while the soldiers are dying on the battlefields in order to preserve democracy ... there are a number of people who seem to forget that we are in wartime, and are helping the enemy with their statements and activities.

"If you are the person who assumes the important responsibility to pilot the boat amidst the storm, could you forgive anyone who drills holes in your boat and lets water come in?"

Thieu's remarks were obviously directed at a handful of sidelined politicians who are calling for "reconciliation" with the Viet Cong or hinting at a coalition government or a neutralist solution for the war. All are anathema to Thieu and some who push these ideas have ended up in prisons or face prosecution.

Suspected Weed Cigarette Found

A 21-year-old Novato man allegedly pulled a marijuana cigarette from his sock today while being taken to Marin County Jail to be booked for refusing to leave the Mill Valley Police Station when an officer refused to lend him money.

Arrested on suspicion of interfering with the duties of a policeman and possession of marijuana was Roger Garrison Utter of 55 Hillside Terrace. He was held in lieu of $1,000 bail to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Officers said Utter came into the police station shortly after 2 a.m. and began shouting at a policeman when his request to borrow several dollars was refused. While en route to jail, police said, Utter displayed a marijuana cigarette he had taken from his sock.

Bulldozer Tips, Injuring Driver

A Stinson Beach bulldozer operator was seriously injured Saturday afternoon when his bulldozer toppled down a ravine and rolled over him while he was working on a steep, muddy hill.

Injured was Wayne Neilsen, 32, of Stinson Beach Heights, who suffered fractured ribs, arm and spine.

George H. White of the Stinson Beach Fire Department reported that Neilsen was working on a hill "in back of the Highlands area" at about 2 p.m.

Because of the mud and the steepness of the hill the bulldozer toppled over, White reported.

Neilsen was taken to Marin General Hospital where he was reported in fair to good condition today.

Edgington In Coma From Florida Wreck

H. Joe Edgington, former superintendent of Reed School District, remained in a coma today in a Miami hospital with severe head injuries suffered in a two-car accident there Thursday night.

Edgington, 39, underwent brain surgery after the crash. His car was hit by another as it pulled from a parking space into traffic, reported his daughter Terry, a senior at Redwood High School.

Edgington resigned as Reed superintendent last June and is now a professor of education at the University of Miami. He was Reed superintendent for three years, coming to Marin from Pacific Grove School District, Monterey County.

Miss Edgington said her father was given a 75 per cent chance of recovery after surgery, and said he apparently has passed the critical three-day period after the crash without complications, but has not regained consciousness.

Edgington, his wife June and their 10-year-old daughter Cindy live at 1205 Avenue Mariposa, the intensive care unit at Baptist Hospital in Miami.

Report Is Due On Solid Waste Disposal Talks

A report on a countywide conference on solid waste disposal will be given to the Marin County Council of Mayors and Councilmen at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Lagunitas Country Club in Ross.

Marin cities, two sanitary districts and county officials participated in the conference held Nov. 24. Recommendations were that each community and special district enact interim measures for the collection of rubbish after the Jan. 1 ban on backyard burning; that Marin County start a program to provide an efficient disposal site usable for a park, and that the cities and special districts and the county of Marin engage in a federally assisted study of the best disposal system for the county.

The council also will be asked to name a successor to former Novato Police Chief Robert J. DiGrazia on the centralized police service council and fill vacancies on the transit district board. It will also hold a discussion on the method of taking the 1970 census.

San Francisco Youths Booked In Weed Probe

Two San Francisco teen-agers have been booked into Marin County Jail and two into Marin County Juvenile Hall on suspicion of having marijuana and a water pipe for smoking it, Larkspur police reported today.

Police said the four were stopped at 1:15 a.m. Saturday by the California Highway Patrol when their car drove through a stop light on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

The patrolman reportedly saw a plastic bag of suspected marijuana in the car, and then found a brass water pipe. He called Larkspur police because the car was stopped inside the city limits.

Booked into jail were Paul Frank Arten and Chris George Gallo, both 19. Each posted $250 bail to appear at 2 p.m. tomorrow in Marin Municipal Court.

Booked into juvenile hall were Edward Michael Rabette, 17, and Luther Eugene Moore, 16.

Talk Of Merger On Tap Tonight

The Mill Valley School District board will continue discussion tonight of possible restudy of merger with the Sausalito School District.

The board meeting will begin at 8 p.m. at Park School.

Unionization of the two districts was previously considered in 1965, although there was reportedly no community interest at that time. The issue was raised again, however, at a recent special meeting of the board called to discuss Sausalito's request to annex all of the Marin View Subdivision, which lies between the two districts.

Also on the agenda is discussion of a recommendation by the sex education committee of the Mill Valley Teachers Association on use of the KQED "Time of Your Life" series.

'No-Knock' Drug Provision Backed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders of both parties today endorsed a controversial "no-knock" provision in a pending drug control bill which would permit federal agents to conduct authorized narcotics raids without giving the traditional warning.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania said the federal courts would be relied on to issue warrants for no-warning raids with careful discretion and to correct any abuse of the new law-enforcement tool.

Both Mansfield and Scott said they would vote against an amendment by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., which would strike the no-knock provision from the bill as an undue invasion of privacy.

Nixon May Go On TV Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon may go on national television and radio networks in support of a veto of a $19.7 billion appropriation for education, health and labor programs now in its final stages in Congress.

The veto and the possible presidential appearance might come tonight, White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said at a news briefing today.

The President will hold a news conference, probably Friday in the early evening, Ziegler said. It had been set for today but was postponed until later in the week, with Congressional action on the education spending bill a key factor in the delay.

No New Leads On Socialite

OAKLAND (UPI)— Police said they had no new leads to report today in the baffling disappearance of socialite Mrs. Renee C. Dana.

Mrs. Dana, 42, daughter of a former president of Trans World Airlines and wife of Oakland insurance broker Jack Dana, vanished last Tuesday after leaving her Lafayette home to attend a funeral in San Francisco.

He locked car was found on the waterfront early Saturday. Her red umbrella was still in the car.

They are fighting that decision.

Assemblyman Joe Gonsalves, D-La Mirada, also is sponsoring an initiative that would limit the property tax levy in the state.

Landlord Reports Tenants Loot Home

A Los Angeles landlord reported to sheriff's deputies that tenants of her Tamalpais Valley home had moved out Friday taking $2,350 worth of her furniture.

Elizabeth C. Sibbernsen reported Saturday that the occupants moved out Friday before their lease was up, and deputies said the case would be referred to the district attorney's office.

DRAFT

indication in the law that "Congress intended to allow the draft boards to deprive otherwise qualified students of their deferments for the reasons relied upon."

The court acknowledged that the law prohibits prior court challenges for ordinary inductions to prevent the draft machinery from being snarled by a deluge of individual court suits.

But it cited a ruling of last term which protected the deferment status involving a divinity student.

The law specifically exempts divinity students. The Court said it saw no difference between this type of special exemption and a student deferment.

"There is...no statutory scheme to permanently exempt certain individuals while only deferring service for others," Justice Hugo L. Black wrote in the majority opinion.

"Both deferments and exemptions accomplish the same congressional purpose, that of not inducting certain registrants at a particular time."

The Court ruled last Monday that local selective service boards have no authority to speed up induction of antiwar protesters to punish them as draft delinquents.

Drug Education Report Is Slated

A report on the drug education program will be presented at the San Anselmo Parks and Recreation Commission meeting Wednesday at 7:45 p.m. at the Pepperwood restaurant, 888 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Reports on cost of bicycle paths and landscaping tennis courts will also be given.

CHARLES McCUEN

Graveside service for Charles P. McCuen, 71, a retired dentist, will be held at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday at Liberty Cemetery, Petaluma.

Dr. McCuen died Thursday in Monterey after a short illness. A native of Placer County, he had practiced in San Francisco for many years and had lived in Novato until moving to Pacific Grove recently.

A veteran of World War II, he was a member of the Canadian Legion Post No. 57 of Sonoma County and the Pacific Grove Free and Accepted Masons.

He is survived by his wife, Emma.

TERESA OUELLETTE

Memorial service for Teresa (Terry) Ouellette will be held at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

She died Jan. 20 in Turlock after a prolonged illness.

A former resident of Marin County, she is survived by her husband, Vernon Ouellette, and a son, Larry Ouellette.

Memorial contributions to the Terry Ouellette Student Loan Fund at Stanislaus State College have been suggested by the family.

MARY TEACHOUT

Funeral arrangements are pending at Parent Funeral Chapel, Petaluma, for Mary Elizabeth Teachout, 72, who died Saturday at a local hospital after a short illness.

A native of Michigan, she had lived in California since 1941 and at 1821 Lakeville Highway, Petaluma, for five years. She was the wife of Frank Teachout.

She is also survived by a son, Robert Gall of California, and two sisters, Mrs. Romain Hartman and Mrs. Louise Good, both of Michigan.

Two Deaf Mutes Die In Chicago Hotel Fire

CHICAGO (AP) — Two young deaf mutes who died in a Sunday morning fire that routed hundreds of guests from the downtown Hilton Hotel "never had a chance," said Chicago Fire Commissioner Robert J. Quinn.

Efforts at mouth-to-mouth resuscitation by firemen failed to revive the two 17-year-olds. "The smoke got them before we opened the door," said Quinn.

The fire on the ninth floor of the 25-story hotel sent 19 persons to hospitals and necessitated first aid treatment for 20 other persons in the hotel.

The 2,341-room Hilton, one of the world's largest hotels, was the headquarters hotel of the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

The two youths killed, Donald Zanger of Quincy and Bruce Kennedy of Morton Grove, were among 41 students at the Jacksonville School for Deaf Mutes who came to Chicago to attend a basketball game.

Twelve of the youths were injured after the fire broke out near an elevator shaft close to their rooms.

Quinn said the deaf mutes apparently were unaware that hotel workers were knocking on doors and warning guests to evacuate.

Quinn said the blaze was confined to the elevator shaft. However, heavy smoke filled the ninth floor and drifted to floors above, causing heavy smoke damage.

Sleeping guests were startled by the shouted warnings of bellhops and screams from some of the guests.

Quinn estimated damage to the structure at $150,000 and ordered an arson investigation into the five-alarm blaze. Such investigation is routine after extra-alarm fires.

Romney Edges Away From Senate Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Housing George Romney expressed hope today that Michigan Republicans could agree on some candidate other than him to run for the Senate this year.

But Romney declined to take himself completely out of consideration for the nomination to oppose the incumbent Democrat, Sen. Philip A. Hart.

"Our department's new housing and urban programs are at a critical state, and the national program for voluntary action is about to be launched," Romney told a news conference. "As a result, at this particular time they require my complete attention."

"Hopefully there can be agreement on someone else as a consensus candidate who can command the wide support needed to win the election," he said.

Romney was asked why he did not categorically rule himself out of contention.

"I don't think any human being can know with absolute certainty what future events will bring," he replied.

The former Michigan governor said also that his wife Lenore is not an active contender for the job.

"She will not be a consensus candidate unless they cannot unite on someone else," Romney said. "Only in that event will she consider it."

Mrs. Romney has been mentioned as a possible candidate by House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford, among others.

Michigan Republican leaders will meet later this week in St. Clair in an attempt to agree on a candidate. Romney declined to endorse anyone else specifically for the nomination, and said he would not attend the consensus meeting this week.

"I am very hopeful they will unite behind another candidate," he said.

Romney declined to elaborate on his statement and would not say under questioning whether and how far he has left the door open for possible candidacy.

Tougher Smog Control Limits To Be Weighed

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Toughening restrictions on air pollution will be considered by the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District's advisory council at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday in district offices at 939 Ellis Street.

The council's ad hoc committee on opacity and particulate requirements is to report its recommendations on how to strengthen restrictions to meet new state standards. The state Air Resources Board voted in November to raise the standard for visibility from three to 10 miles.

A tsunami, Japanese for harbor wave, or tidal wave, has nothing to do with tides. It may be triggered by an underwater earthquake, volcanic explosion or earth slide. It races with the speed of a jet plane and strikes with the force of dynamite.

Nixon Reaffirms Policy To Send Arms To Israel

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has reaffirmed American policy to supply arms to Israel and to support direct negotiations between the Israelis and the Arabs as the best way to end the Mideast crisis.

The President gave his views in a message Sunday to the opening session of the National Emergency Conference on Peace i the Middle East.

Nixon said of the arms matter in the message read to about 1,000 delegates by Max Fisher of Detroit:

"The United States is prepared to supply military equipment necessary to support the efforts of friendly governments, like Israel's, to defend the safety of their people.

"We would prefer restraint in the shipment of arms to this area. But we are maintaining a careful watch on the relative strength of the forces there, and we will not hestitute to provide arms to friendly states as the need arises," Nixon said.

On the negotiations question, the President said:

"The United States believes that peace can be based only by and that agreement can be achieved on through negotiations between them. We do not see any substitute for such negotiations if peace and security arrangements acceptable to the parties are to be worked out."

Nixon disclaimed any U.S. wish to negotiate or impose peace terms.

The conference is sponsored by the presidents of more than a score of national Jewish organizations. They said in a statement the conference "was convened because of growing concern over recent State Dpartment proposals for the terms of a Middle East peace settlement which many feel undercut Israel's bargaining position."

Agnew Replaces President As Best Dressed Politician

NEW YORK (UPI)—Spiro T. Agnew was named the best dressed politician of 1970 Sunday by the Fashion Foundation of America.

The vice president thus replaced his boss, President Richard M. Nixon, who was last year's winner.

"He (Agnew) has the figure for clothes tailors dream about," the Foundation said. "His dress quietly expresses forceful integrity and sincerity."

Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York also made the list as the best dressed man in civic affairs, the third time he has been so honored.

Lindsay, who replaced Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago, was cited as an "elegant close follower of style trends."

Another change from last year involved Sen. Barry Goldwater, who was chosen best dressed man in government. Last year's winner was Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau.

Others names were:

Prince Charles of Britain, international society; Hugh O'Brian, screen; Ed Sullivan, communications; David Merrick, theater; Liberace, entertainment; Billy Graham, evangelist; and Arnold Palmer, sports.

The foundation also named Lou Puro, board chairman of the San Juan hotel, host; Christopher Darrell, executive of Schenley Import, marketing; Morton A. Lippmann, President of Audemars Piguet Watch Co., commerce; Jerome Alexander, president of Jerrax Imports Inc., industry, and Herman D. Gimbel, board chairman of Audio Fidelity records, business.

The foundation said it would present a medal to each man and place his photograph in its American Hall of Fashion Fane at Glenmere Country Club in Chester, N.Y.

Sukarno Divorce Being Reported

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — An army informant says former President Sukarno has divorced his third wife, Japanese-born Ratna Sari Dewi, 29, at her request.

Dewi, a former Tokyo night club hostess, is believed to be living in Paris. Gossip here is that she wants to marry a Japanese businessman.

She is the fourth official wife Sukarno has divorced. Although entitled under Moslem law to have four wives at once, he now has only one remaining, Javanese-born Hartini.

Financier Wolfson Is Out Of Prison

FORT WALTON BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Financier Louis Wolfson was released from federal prison today after serving nine months for selling unregistered stock.

Claude Williams, superintendent of the minimum security federal prison at nearby Eglin Air Force Base, said Wolfson left sometime after midnight.

Wolfson was met at the gate by members of his family, Williams said. Wolfson had turned in his prison clothing and equipment Friday and was eligible for release anytime after midnight Sunday, the superintendent said.

In advance of his release, Wolfson, who will be 56 Wednesday, described himself as "perhaps wiser" but not bitter.

For good behavior, Wolfson won release three months early on his one-year sentence. He has under appeal an 18-month sentence for perjury and obstructing an investigation by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Wolfson's association with Abe Fortas led to the justice's resignation from the Supreme Court.

Sunday, the Miami millionaire issued a statement calling for major changes in America's penal system.

"I am convinced our penal system must be revamped because our crime rate is increasing at such a pace that every American family could have a member killed or maimed within 10 years," he said in the statement handed out by his son, Stephen Wolfson of Jacksonville.

Wolfson, who has denied that he did anything criminal, was accused of selling $2.5 million in unregistered stock. He entered prison April 25, 1969, and was denied a parole last Oct. 2.

"I have every conceivable reason to be scarred with bitterness," Wolfson said in the statement.

"But I am not bitter. If I were, I would be unable to accomplish goals that I have long envisioned."

Calling for a full-scale effort to "improve the treatment of criminality," Wolfson scheduled a news conference in Jacksonville March 3 to offer "full documentation along with my recommendations."

He said, "The American people are entitled to know of the inequities existent in our disgraceful penal system and inconsistencies apparent in parole board operations."

Woman Reports Attack Attempt

A 27-year-old San Rafael woman told police a youth, about 16 or 18 years old, wearing a military jacket and cowboy boots, struck her in the face knocking her to the floor in the laundry room of her apartment house Friday night.

Gail P. Cardarpoli of 1020 Los Gamos Road said the youth entered the room at 9:50 p.m. asking for refuge from the storm and attacked her five minutes later as she started to leave. The youth fled after Mrs. Cardaropoli kicked him and screamed, police said.

She was treated by her physician for a cut right eyebrow, according to police.

Minor Injuries In Auto Plunge

Two Stinson Beach women escaped with minor injuries when their car plunged down a 75-foot embankment off Panoramic Highway Saturday night near the Mountain Home Inn.

California Highway Patrol officers reported that a westbound car driven by Charlotte Joan Beall, 40, of Stinson Beach, was forced into an embankment by an unidentified car, then crossed the roadway, went through a guardrail and down the embankment at 10:15 p.m.

Mrs. Beall and her passenger Rosalind Pollock, 38, of the same address, registered owner of the car, weren't thrown from the car, which was listed as a total loss, officers said.

Mrs. Beall, suffered a cut forehead and chest pains, and Mrs. Pollock, suffered head pains, according to the highway patrol.

What is this strike all about?

For the first time in its 108-year history the Independent-Journal is faced with a work stoppage by its union employees who belong to San Francisco Typographical Union No. 21.

What is the strike all about? How did it happen? The answers to those questions are not simple because it should not have happened. We suspect the unions agree with that.

First of all let's tell you what it is not about. It is not about wages. I-J printers and all other union employees are paid the prevailing scale of wages in the Bay area, one of, if not the highest in the United States. The scale of wages was not in dispute. In addition, I-J printers participate in a generous voluntary profit-sharing plan never negotiated by the union but voluntarily initiated by the late Publisher Roy A. Brown in 1956.

It is not about hours. It is not about holidays. It is not about vacations. It is not about fringe benefits--health and welfare or pension funds or sick leave which have been agreed on and are being paid.

What then are the issues on which negotiations broke down?

First is the issue of "reproduction" or "deadhorse" or "bogus" as it is variously called. This is a practice, dating back to 1872, by which the union requires that advertising matter which is supplied to the I-J ready for publication must, after publication, be set in type, proofread, corrected, and then thrown away. The practice is archaic; it serves no useful purpose and is costly; once required in all printers' contracts by the I.T.U. general laws, it has in the past three years been removed from the I.T.U. general laws and made a negotiable item. It is universally despised by publisher and printer alike. In 1960 I.T.U. international representative Joseph Baird of San Francisco made a study of this practice for then I.T.U. President Elmer Brown and estimated that only 2 to 5 per cent of the locals he visited were actually doing "bogus" reproduction.

The I-J made a generous offer of added job security based on the elimination of reproduction. Although it continues to claim this item is negotiable, San Francisco Typographical Union No. 21 never made a single proposal in negotiations for its elimination.

Second is the matter of appeals from discharge. The past practice was that a printer discharged for cause had only to appeal to his coworkers at the unit or union local level for reinstatement. Final recourse was to the I.T.U. Executive Council and the I.T.U. convention. The publisher could plead his case but had no voice in the decision. It is sometimes called the "mother-in-law" clause because the publisher is in the position of a husband appealing to his mother-in-law to settle an argument with his wife. It is rapidly disappearing from I.T.U. contracts as being both unfair and largely unworkable.

The I-J proposed an appeals procedure similar to that in its other union contracts: Appeal to a joint standing committee consisting of representatives of both the publisher and the union with the discharge to be submitted to binding impartial arbitration if the joint committee could not resolve the issue. The union refused to budge and insisted on continuing the unfair past practice.

Third is the procedure for the settlement of other grievances. Both the I-J and the union propose that grievances be settled by appeal to a joint standing committee representing both publisher and the union with final recourse to binding arbitration. However, the I-J insists that it be entitled, as any employer would be, to control the work during the prompt settlement of the grievance; the union insists that the "status quo" be maintained. Experience has indicated that it usually is not possible during the dispute to agree on what the "status quo" is. The only union with which the I-J has ever had a formal grievance procedure is the typographical union, all other grievances having been settled by amicable conferences between representatives of the publisher and of the other unions.

Fourth is the issue of the foreman being required to be a member of the union. The National Labor Relations Act as confirmed by Federal courts says that the foreman is not properly a member of the bargaining unit. The courts have ruled that while the union may bargain on this issue it may not strike because of it. In effect, the union continues to insist on the power to fine or otherwise discipline the publisher's representative and supervisor, the foreman, for carrying out the instructions of the publisher.

There are minor issues which lend themselves to settlement by negotiation.

This then is what has caused the disruption of the production and distribution of the Independent-Journal and deprived some 60-odd union employees of their regular livelihood.

How did it happen?

The I-J's agreement with San Francisco Typographical Union No. 21 expired November 2, 1968. Prior to its expiration both the union and the publisher made comprehensive proposals. On September 13 the union notified the publisher in writing that as of November 13, 1968, "any agreement--written, oral, or implied--or any conditions of employment or other understanding now in effect between San Francisco Typographical Union No. 21 and the San Rafael Independent-Journal will terminate." Shortly after negotiations began an impasse was threatened over the issue of reproduction, and it was agreed to suspend formal negotiations while the publisher's representative and the president of the San Francisco local sought a mutually acceptable solution to this issue. Frequent informal meetings were held between the publisher's representative, the president of the union local, and later the international representative of the I.T.U. At no time did the union make any proposal other than its original one for the settlement of this issue.

At the tenth meeting on March 14, 1969, the international representative of the I.T.U. asked the publisher's representative to submit a new proposal, a "best offer" on all unresolved issues. "Let's get up to the 5-yard line." The publisher's representative acceded to the request.

The Independent-Journal then prepared and submitted a new proposal including all items then agreed and substantially modifying the proposal on unresolved issues.

On April 29, 1969, this new proposal was rejected on 14 points, the union making no counterproposal of any kind. It was agreed that an impasse in negotiations had been reached, but both parties agreed not to close the door finally on an attempt to reach a settlement.

At the request of the union, the publisher's representative on June 2, 1969, traveled to the international headquarters of the I.T.U. in Colorado Springs for informal meetings with the international officers and a formal meeting with the Executive Council and San Francisco union representatives.

The meetings were amicable, the international officers indicated that all the unresolved issues were negotiable, and the union agreed, as required by law, that the publisher could implement increases in the scale of wages paid to I-J printers to conform to the area scale. This acquiescence by the union, which had earlier been refused, was confirmed during later negotiations with the local committee of the San Francisco union and implemented by the I-J.

Negotiations were resumed and encouraging progress was made on minor issues.

On October 17, 1969, the situation began to deteriorate. An I-J printer was discharged for cause; the union insisted that past appeals practice, which had pertained under the terminated contract, be followed; and the I-J said that it would accept an interim appeals procedure consistent with its bargaining position but not the old practice. The I.T.U. international representative then said, "The union's position is that the condition for any further negotiations is unqualified acceptance by the company of all terms of the old contract on a day-to-day basis pending the final outcome of negotiations."

The publisher's representative demurred and the I.T.U. representative then concluded, "I don't know of any basis on which to schedule further meetings."

The publisher's representative said that he was disposed to meet at any time if there is any remote possibility of a basis on which to proceed, and negotiations were ended.

At the request of other unions with which the I-J had contracts the publisher's representative twice met with a committee of the other unions and the printers' union. The printers' union rejected proposals for interim ground rules both from the other unions and from the I-J.

The publisher's representative met twice more with the international representative of the I.T.U. and the president of another union who offered to serve as a mediator. The meetings were not fruitful. The publisher's representative also offered to meet with an international vice president of the I.T.U. in a last-ditch effort to avoid a strike, but this offer was ignored.

On the evening of January 6, 1970, the Independent-Journal was informed that the San Francisco printers' union was organizing pickets and would picket the I-J the following morning.

A prompt check of composing room equipment revealed that wiring and electronic controls had been damaged and that electronic circuitry had been sprayed with epoxy. During the night tires were slashed on I-J delivery trucks and one radiator was smashed.

The I-J called in executive and supervisory personnel and other employees to repair damaged equipment. When I.T.U. pickets appeared at the I-J at 6:40 the following morning, the I-J proceeded to publish the Wednesday, January 7, 1970, edition using executive and supervisory personnel and other employees. Some union employees reported for work, but members of the stereotypers' and pressmen's union refused to cross the picket line. The 44-page edition was published from 4 to 6 hours late.

Some violence occurred when other employees reported for work and when I-J delivery trucks left the plant. One delivery truck was later forced from the road and damaged with personal injury to an occupant.

On Thursday, January 8, the I-J obtained a temporary restraining order limiting picketing and forbidding violence and threats of violence. The effect of this order was to reduce violence except that slashing of tires on I-J trucks and employees' cars and threatening phone calls continued. On Saturday, January 17, a mass demonstration in violation of the restraining order was held at the I-J plant.

The rally finally dissipated, but picketers returned to the I-J plant and threatened to prevent distribution of the Saturday edition. At the request of the police the I-J delayed distribution for more than two hours, but it was finally determined to start distribution and the police were required to restrain unruly picketers.

Eggs and paint were spread on the building and tires were slashed.

Since the beginning of the strike no attempt has been made by officers of the printers' union or other unions involved to initiate discussions designed to bring an early halt to the strike.

I-J publisher Wishard A. Brown has said: "We have full legal rights and moral obligations to continue publishing the Independent-Journal without interruption."

Youth, 21, Booked In Pot Possession

A 21-year-old youth was booked into Marin County Jail Saturday on suspicion of possessing marijuana and being drunk in public after he was found lying on the hood of his car in front of the Bermuda Palms Motel at 2:07 a.m., San Rafael police reported.

William Henry McInerney of 129 Redwood Avenue, Corte Madera, was freed on $625 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court tomorrow at 2 p.m.

More than an ounce of alleged marijuana in a plastic bag and cigarette papers were found by police in McInerney's trouser pocket while he was being booked.

Three In Coma After Eating Poisoned Hog

ALAMAGORDO, N.M. (UPI) —A fourth member of a family stricken by mercury poisoning from eating the meat of hogs fed infested seed grain said today he would go to a doctor to check out "dizzy spells."

Troy Huckelby, 18, a soldier at nearby Holloman Air Force Base, is a brother of three other children of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Huckelby who were in critical condition today at an El Paso, Tex., hospital with mercury poisoning.

The ill were Jean, 18; Amos Charles, 13; and Ernestine, 8. They were in comas and doctors said they were the first in this country affected by the contaminated pork.

Dr. Bruce Storrs, director of the state's medical services division, said he agreed with a scientific article that said damage from mercury poisoning can develop unseen for some years and may become acute as the poisoned person ages. Storrs said mercury residue had been recovered from "most of the family." Troy Huckelby said 10 of the 11 members had eaten the poisoned pork.

Storrs said "as far as we know, there hasn't been anybody outside of the family" who has eaten the contaminated meat.

Prompted by the illness of the Huckelby children, the chairman of the New Mexico Citizens for Clean Air and Water, Peter Montague, asked Sen. Joseph M. Montoya, D-N.M., and Gov. David F. Cargo to call for a moratorium on use of mercury compound chemicals. Montague called the matter a "national problem."

Among almost all people of the world, multiples of five or 10 have been employed to express quantity.

Ham Operators Complete Tests

Marin County ham operators have completed a test of their preparedness to react to emergency situations.

A network of mobile amateur radio stations responded Thursday to a simulated disaster. The object of the exercise was to test the operators' preparedness to assist the Marin County Chapter of the American Red Cross in emergencies such as locating lost children, forest fires or earthquake.

The activity was part of a nationwide simulated emergency conducted annually by the Red Cross. Eleven Marin ham operators answered a roll call during the test.

Snipers Hit Police In Harlem Trap

NEW YORK (AP) — Two patrolmen were lured to a trap by a false report of trouble yesterday and then sniped at from a Harlem rooftop by one or two men, police said.

Both officers were wounded seriously.

Police in bulletproof vests and helmets, some armed with rifles, searched roofs and alleys near the ambush site, but did not find the assailants.

The two patrolmen were shot as they left their patrol car, police said.

"It was a setup. There was nothing in that building to warrant a cop," one policeman said. "They never even had a chance to draw their guns. They were shot in the back."

Patrolman Ralph Bax, 49, was wounded in the right arm, chest and stomach. Patrolman William T. Kivlehan, 25, was shot in the right arm and stomach, police said. Both were taken to St. Luke's Hospital.

Police said they recovered ten 9-millimeter cartridges and two M1 carbine shells.

The two victims crawled into the hallway of a nearby apartment and waited for reinforcements, who were summoned by witnesses.

Suspect Nabbed In Weed Probe

A girl who, according to police, apparently was living in a minibus was arrested Saturday on suspicion of having marijuana in her rolling home, Corte Madera police reported.

Beverly Greenburg, 21, of Cedarhurst, N.Y., was booked at Marin County jail on suspicion of possessing marijuana and held in lieu of $625 bail to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Police said a resident on Spindrift Passage complained that people were living in a minibus parked there. Police checked the bus at 11:45 p.m. and found Miss Greenburg and, reportedly, a marijuana cigarette butt in the bus ashtray.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER J. WIKEL

Wikel

Line 14 on the new Form 1040 is used to enter the totals from Schedules C, D, E and F which are to be completed and attached to Form 1040 if you have income from:

Business—Schedule C.

Gains or losses from sales or exchanges of property (Capital Gains)—Schedule D.

Pensions or annuities, rents or royalties, partnerships, estates, trusts, small business corporations or miscellaneous income—Schedule E.

Farm Income—Schedule F.

Schedule C is used to report the profit or loss from business or profession and in itself may require attaching of other schedules to the Schedule C in order to explain this income. In any event, if you have income from a business or profession it must be reported on Schedule C and Schedule C is attached to Form 1040 in order to explain this other income and the amount is entered on Line 14 and the appropriate box checked.

NET PROFIT

Also, if your net profit on this schedule is $400 or more, or if you have farm income or if you have income from partnerships, or as a minister or service with a foreign government, or director's fees, etc., then you must complete Schedule SE — Computation of Social Security Self-employment Tax.

Schedule D is used to report the gain or loss on the sales or exchanges of property. This is a two page form which in itself may require other attachments to explain the entries made on this form which must be attached to the Form 1040 to explain the gain or loss from sales or exchanges of property. The net amount is entered on Form 1040, line 14, and the appropriate box checked.

SCHEDULE E

Schedule E, Supplemental and Miscellaneous Income. This schedule should be completed to report your pension and annuity income, your rent and royalty income, the income or loss of partnerships, estates or trusts, small business corporations, and miscellaneous income and to report net operating losses from a prior year, and the instructions advise to "attach computation." It is possible that several additional sheets would be required to be attached to Schedule E to explain the entries on Schedule E which in turn must be entered on Form 1040, line 14, and the appropriate box checked.

Schedule F, Farm Income and Expense. If you had income or losses in connection with the operation of a farm you are required to complete Schedule F, Farm Income and Expenses. You may also find it necessary to attach several pieces of paper to Schedule F to explain the entries made thereon, the total of Schedule F is brought forward to line 14 of Form 1040 and entered here and the appropriate box checked.

COMPLICATED LINE

Line 15 seems comparatively simple until we analyze it. On line 15a you add lines 11, 12c, 13 and 14 to get a total and then for line 15b less adjustments you see Form 1040—1 and that says and I quote, "Income Adjustments."

Line 15b—Your income can be reduced by the following adjustments: Sick pay (attach Form 2440); moving expenses (attach Form 3903); employee business expenses (attach Form 2106); payments to self-employment retirement plans (attach Form 2950SE).

From the above you can see that you must attach Form 2440 if you have sick pay, Form 3903 if you have moving expenses, Form 2106 if you have employee business expenses and Form 2950SE if you have made payment to a self-employment retirement plan.

—ATTACH FILES

For each of the above schedules, you might find it necessary to attach one or more pieces of paper to the schedule to explain the entries that you have put on the schedule and then, of course, the total for that schedule or schedules is brought forward and put here on line 15b which in turn is subtracted from line 15a to arrive at your adjusted gross income which is entered on line 15c.

This is your adjusted gross income and it is the figure used for the tax computation on Schedule T.

We will discuss this in a later column.

Antilitter Law Set For Model Legislature

A law which would reduce litter in the state will be proposed by Marin delegates to the YMCA California Model Legislature in Sacramento this week, according to delegate Thomas Guerin of Ross.

The proposal calls for the reestablishment of deposits on soft drink bottles and the initiation of deposits on beverage cans and beer bottles.

The delegates from the Marin YMCA who will participate in the model legislature Thursday through Sunday are: Marsanne Milmoe, Lissa Hershleb, Merrily Milmoe and Guerin of Redwood High School; Jonnel Schmitz and Melissa Crowell of San Rafael High School, and Steve Jensen of Drake High School.

Anne Gustafsson, a Swedish foreign exchange student and a senior at Drake, will attend the model legislature as an observer. Sheryl Barnard, YMCA staff member, and Judy Hartman, advisor, will also attend.

A car wash was held Saturday to help raise money for the trip.

More than 30 per cent of the drugs introduced in 1966 in England, France, Germany and Italy were developed by U.S. scientists, reports Drug Topics.

Hub Man Shot While Trying To Flee Pair

A 25-year old San Anselmo man was shot in the right buttock Thursday night as he fled from two men at the Highway 101 overpass at Marin City, sheriff's deputies reported yesterday.

Daniel Michael Frasco of 25 Ancha Vista, Apt. 29, a cook at Paddy's restaurant in Sausalito, told deputies he was shot while walking under the overpass at 10:40 p.m.

Deputies said he was approached by two Negro males, one carrying small caliber automatic pistol, and one of them said: "Come over here. Don't run or we'll shoot."

When Frasco fled, he was shot, but escaped and was treated at Marin General Hospital for his wound. He told deputies he had gotten a ride to the Marin City offramp and was walking to Bridgeway when the two men approached from the rear.

More Civilian Jobs Will Be Cut

TOKYO (AP) — The U.S. Military Command reported today it will eliminate about 3,340 more Japanese civilian jobs at U.S. bases before June 30 as part of its economy drive.

The command said earlier it would eliminate 2,300 other jobs.

Foran's New Transit Plan Introduced

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Legislation to create a Metropolitan Transportation Commission to coordinate transportation development in the nine Bay Area counties was introduced today by Assemblyman John F. Foran, D-San Francisco.

Foran's bill would create a 19-member board with the responsibility for transportation planning, and would empower it to decide when and where the state could spend money for both the freeway and conventional highway systems. State officials traditionally have opposed relegating this responsibility to local officials.

But Foran declared that "the unbridled development of bridges, highways and mass transit facilities is no longer tolerable."

His bill would affect the Golden Gate Bridge District's plans to get into the transit business by requiring the district's plans to conform with the MTC's regional plan.

The 19 members of the MTC board would be selected as follows: 10 from Alameda, Contra Costa, San Francisco, San Mateo and Santa Clara counties, five of whom are appointed by the boards of supervisors and five jointly by the cities in each county; four members appointed by city and county officials of Marin, Napa, Solano and Sonoma counties, and five members representing the Association of Bay Area Governments, the state Business and Transportation Agency and the federal departments of transportation and housing and urban development.

Foran's bill provided that the MTC be incorporated into any regional government set up in the future.

Police Arrest Escaped Felon

Joe R. Trujillo, 31, who walked away from a minimum custody dormitory at San Quentin Prison last November, was arrested by Los Angeles police yesterday, James Park, associate warden at San Quentin, said today.

Trujillo, of Los Angeles, began serving six months to five years for auto theft and one to ten years for possession of marijuana in Dec. 1966.

Park said Melvin Ray Durham, who escaped with Trujillo, has not been caught.

Cash Stolen

A burglar stole $100 in cash from a drawer beneath the cash register and opened an empty safe Saturday at Romulos Restaurant, 1242 Fourth Street, San Rafael police reported today.

Father Held On Two Counts Of Slaying Children

SAN FRANCISCO UPI — Michael Condon, a superior court clerk who didn't want his three teen-age children to live "in the world the way it is today," was held today on murder counts involving two of them.

His third child, Lawrence, 13, remained in critical condition with a gunshot wound in the head.

Condon, 56, shot his three children Saturday morning with a .38-caliber pistol as they slept. He called police after his wife, Josephine, was awakened by the shots and managed to take the gun from him.

Their daughter, Melinda, 18, was killed and Michael Jr., 17, died Sunday at San Francisco General Hospital.

Mrs. Condon said her husband was distraught over conditions in the world today and feared his family couldn't carry on if anything happened to him. She said he intended to kill her and himself, but she managed to take the weapon from him.

Duplex Zoning Hearing Slated

A public hearing for proposed duplex zoning at 129 and 133 Oak Knoll Avenue will be held when the San Anselmo City Council meets at 8 p.m. tomorrow at city hall.

The council will hear a report from the mayor's committee on off-street parking and nonconforming uses, and will discuss the second phase of the county-wide planning program.

A study of city salaries will be presented by City Administrator Alfred C. Kaeppel for council use in preparing the 1970-71 budget.

A clerk at a Mill Valley Photo Drive-in stand was robbed of an undetermined amount of money Saturday by a thief waiting inside the small building, police said.

Police said the attendant, Donna Jean Fisher, was returning to the Fotomat stand about 5:30 p.m. with change from the nearby Purity Store at East Blithedale Avenue and Camino Alto when a youth said to be between 14 and 16 years old with long blond hair jumped out, grabbed the money from her hand and fled.

The youth was wearing blue dungarees, a dark blue pullover sweater and white tennis shoes, police said.

Teachers Vote End To 12-Day Walkout

NEWARK, N.J. UPI—Striking schoolteachers in Passaic voted to go back to work today, ending a walkout that began Jan. 14. A strike threat also ended in Madison Township and North Arlington teachers returned to the classrooms after a one-day work stoppage.

The Passaic teachers voted following an agreement reached in the early hours of this morning with school board spokesmen on a new wage scale.

The teachers voted at the senior high school. Those of the city's more than 8,200 students who showed up at the 11 schools waited in homerooms until the 430-member Education Association of Passaic ratified the new settlement at about 9:15 a.m.

A 4:30 a.m. agreement averted a walkout in Madison Township, involving more than 20 schools and about 12,000 students.

Teachers in North Arlington agreed Sunday night to go back to work after staging a one-day protest over a wage dispute Friday, closing five schools and giving 1,800 students a vacation.

But in East Brunswick weekend-long salary talks stalemated. More than 9,800 students there have been on unscheduled vacation since last Thursday from 15 schools and Mayor Joseph Mammon warned Sunday he would seek a court order if the 550 teachers did not return to their jobs today.

The $704,000 Passaic settlement raises the salary range to $7,300 to $14,125. Formerly it was $6,500 to $12,800, it was reported.

Liechtenstein, the small independent country between Switzerland and Austria, has a population of only 16,628.

Lack Of Workers Causing High Ohio River Pollution

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Millions of gallons of untreated sewage are being dumped into the Ohio River as a result of Cincinnati's nonuniformed workers strike which entered its fourth week today.

Arthur Caster, director of the city sewer department, said that the powerhouse at the treatment plant here has been shut down since Friday night because of the lack of manpower to make necessary repairs to diesel engines.

He said for the past three weeks two men on 12-hour shifts have been doing all the work to maintain engines which aid in the treatment process.

"We saw some leaks in the expansion joints and we don't want to take chances and damage the equipment," Caster said. "Two men can't do the work and keep the engines running."

About 60 million gallons of domestic and industrial wastes are treated daily by the plant, Caster estimated.

"Maybe this will help get this strike settled," he said of the decision to dump the untreated wastes.

Federal mediators were to meet today with representatives of the city and Municipal Workers Union. About 1,500 workers have been on strike since Jan. 5. There has been no garbage collection or street and water maintenance since the strike began.

Caster said that there are federal regulations against dumping untreated sewage into the river, but this is an "emergency situation."

TODAY IN PARIS

The Miniskirt Is Dying But Not Dead

By LUCIE NOEL

PARIS (AP) — The miniskirt is dying but not dead. Long skirts "brushing the ankle" will make a comeback. And pants are on their last legs.

That's the advance word on the Paris spring-summer fashion openings that started today and continue through Saturday.

MANY COLLECTIONS will offer both old and new lengths. John Tullis, who designs for Molyneux, takes a neutral approach, as he says: "Hemlines are purely a personal matter between the designer and the client. I prefer them to decide their own length, based on what suits them best."

Marc Bohan, at Christian Dior, also will offer a choice-mid-thigh for the young, btween the ankle and the calf for those who want a change of hemline length. In any case, the knee is completely outmoded as a reference point.

"Hemlines are no longer the ultimate solution," Bohan says. "Some will stay short because miniskirts are of our era. Every length is right for evening."

Bohan is definitely against one thing: "the uniform which the tunic and pants have undoubtedly become."

NINA RICCI bans pants and promises a soft, highwaisted, very feminine silhouette.

Pierre Cardin, abandoning moon trip gimmicks, says: "Woman is a beautiful animal that has be be dressed and accessorized."

His hemlines will go to the ankle as he follows his urge to conceal bare flesh, but he will balance this with dramatic large peek-a-boo cutouts in unexpected places.

As far as Cardin is concerned, the tailored suit as such is dead. But Chanel is still showing and selling her little tailored suits and Cardin's opinion may not be universally shared.

MICHEL GOMA for Patou says: "I feel my long and ultralong hemlines look younger than the current ultrashort ones. The long dresses are soft and relaxed. I have stressed the unisex feeling in contrast by using men's wear fabrics, such as glen and shepherd checks, tartans and dotted fabrics. They are all treated to a feminine feeling, soft in color. The prints are on crepe chiffon or organdy, resulting in an ultrafluid and ultraprovocative mood. High slashed skirts and devastating plunging necklines set off some enormous sleeves."

Bohan's favorite colors for day are beige, brown, copper, rosewood, eggyolk yellow and safron. For evening he switches to turn-of-the-century shades, as mauve, parma violet, rose pink. He will show some jarring contrasts: vivid green with wine or plum, yellow with saffron. He uses very little black. Favorite fabrics are selected for softness — crepe de chine, georgett or jersey.

PACO RABANNE presented this short evening dress done in glass pearls tied together at the openings in Paris of spring and summer designer collections. A short synthetic fur coat decorated with huge golden rivets completed the ensemble, which is topped by a turban-style headpiece made with mother-of-pearl beads. (UPI Cablephoto from Paris)

Judith Roe Mithiun Becomes Bride Of Edward T. Hartnett

Judith Roe Mithun of Palo Alto became the bride of Edward T. Harnett of San Jose in an evening ceremony on Saturday at the First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Mithun and sister of Richard Mithun of Tiburon. She was graduated from Redwood High School and University of California. She is a computer analyst at Control Data Corp. in Sunnyvale.

Maid of honor was Jean Featherstone of Hillsborough, and the bridesmaid was Evelyn Smith of La Jolla.

The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hartnett of Phoenix, Ariz. Her sister is Mrs. Robert Earickson of Honolulu, Hawaii. He was graduated from West Phoenix High School and Arizona State University. Edward is a computer analyst for the Control Data Corp.

The bridegroom's brother-in-law, Robert Earickson of Honolulu, Hawaii, was best man. Ushers were Richard Mithun of Tiburon, the bride's brother; Stanley Gardner and James Person of Sunnyvale.

A reception was held at the Corinthian Yacht Club in Tiburon. The couple will live in Sunnyvale after a wedding trip to Mexico.

Suzanne Johannesen Is Wed To Edwin Laney In Saturday Ceremony

Suzanne Johannesen and Edwin Laney were united in marriage Saturday afternoon in a ceremony at San Geronimo Valley Community Church. A reception at Deer Park Villa in Fairfax followed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Johannesen of San Rafael.

Corinne Walsh of San Anselmo was maid of honor, and the bridesmaid was Jennifer Bellamy of San Francisco.

Best man was Paul Minnick of San Francisco, and guests were ushered to their seats by Rafael Fernandez of Tiburon and James Wikel of Larkspur.

Suzanne was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and attends College of Marin. Steve Johannesen, who is in the Army in Vietnam, is her brother, and her local grandmother is Mrs. Edward Johansen of San Anselmo.

Mr. and Mrs. George Laney of Renton, Wash., are the bridegroom's parents. He was graduated from Renton High School and John O'Connell Trade School and is employed by J and B Ford in Corte Madera. Edwin is the brother of Lt. Col. Ira Laney of Rapid City, S.D., and Mrs. R. P. McKercher of Escondido.

The couple are living in San Rafael.

Fighting The IRS For Singles

By WILLIAM J. WAUGH
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dainty Vivien Kellems has her dukes up again, ready to take on the Internal Revenue Service in behalf of some 25 million unmarried taxpayers she says are illegally overtaxed each year.

For some time the feisty 73-year-old spinster from East Haddam, Conn., has been trying to get the IRS to sue her in court but, she says, they refused. Now, she continues, the government has finally made a mistake and she can take the initiative.

THE IRS said it had disallowed certain medical expenses and she still owed $813.30 on her 1965 income tax. Not so, says a petiton filed in the Tax Court of the United States. Miss Kellems is not only entitled to the deduction but also $2,939.13 for overpayment that year, her petition says.

"The government actually owes me $76,000—$48,000 illegally collected the past 21 years plus 6 per cent interest," she said in an interview.

Miss Kellems fought the government to a standstill in a 1948 case involving the withholding tax. In that fight, a jury returned to her all but $800 of about $8,000 attached from her company's bank account after she refused to withhold taxes from her employes' paychecks. She said she refused to be the government's tax collector.

Now, she contends that the IRS illegally charges a higher rate on net taxable income of single persons.

THE DISPARITY in rates, a chart she developed shows, becomes greater the higher the taxable income is. For instance, on a net income of $50,000—after all deductions—a single person would pay $22,590 and a married person $17,060.

Her attorney, David Shelton of Washington, states in the petition that this violates the "5th, 14th and 16th amendments to the Constitution . . . and constitutes taking property without due process of law, the denial of equal protection of law and the arbitrary confiscation of property."

"I'm perfectly willing to pay taxes," Miss Kellem says, "but at the same rate as anybody else."

Her petition quotes Edwin S. Cohen, assistant secretary of the Treasury for tax policy, as testifying:

"The tax burden on single persons is disproportionately high in relation to that of married persons who enjoy the benefits of income splitting."

SHE HAS KEPT up a lively correspondence with Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy and Jan. 15 wrote referring to her tax form on estimated income:

"I did not send any money, nor am I going to pay any more tax until you have refunded to me $76,323.40, taxes plus 6 per cent interest, illegally taken from me over the past 21 years.

"Will you please send me a check for $76,323.40. Upon receipt I will resume paying taxes."

She said Uncle Sam is penalizing "us girls just because we can't get husbands. They could just as legally penalize me because I'm 5-foot-1."

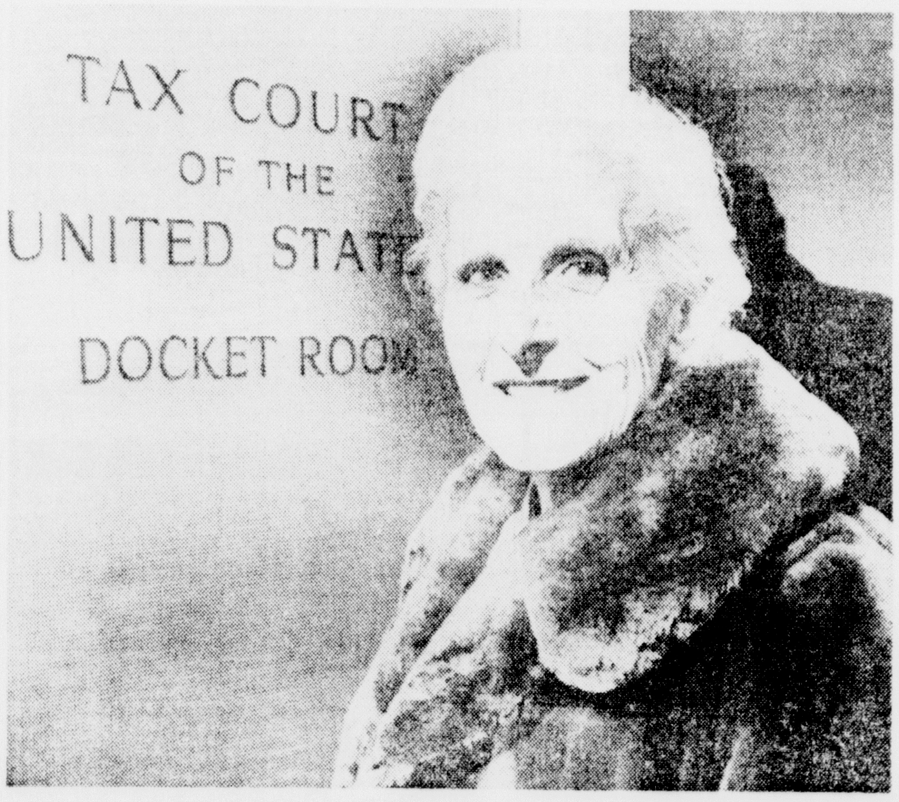
She said there's "just more of us girls and not enough men to go around. I asked Kennedy how many 72-year-old eligibles were available."

MISS KELLEMS maintains and is ready to go to court to prove it — that "there is no law that says that single people have to pay at a higher rate than married people."

She said the IRS imposed the higher rate "with sleight of hand" when the 1948 community property law was passed permitting married couples to split their net income and get a lower tax.

The IRS has been trying to get a hold of Miss Kellem's books but her reply has been "take me to court and sue," she said.

Thus far, she says, they haven't given her a day in court via this route.



VIVIEN KELLEMS, 72, of East Haddam, Conn., longtime adversary of the Internal Revenue Service, has filed a petition in Washington at the Tax court of the United States claiming a tax overcharge. Miss Kellems claims that she has been illegally overtaxed because she is single and that a married person pays at a lower rate on his net taxable income than she does. (AP wirephoto)

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Unless Both Sides Give A Little Children Won't See Grandparents

DEAR HELEN:

Our daughter and her two children lived with us for five years after her marriage broke up. She paid no board and room, though she had a part time job—and we babysat. We realized she had rough sledding, and were glad to help. We've always been a close and loving family.

Then she married a man with one child. They continued to live in our guest house, rent free. He helped my husband with improvements on our yard and buildings, put in a big garden, a swimming pool, etc.

They also borrowed a thousand dollars from us. They stayed with us six months and then the man found a job in a distant town, so they moved.

Now they're saying that the loan should be forgotten, as our son-in-law worked it out. We could have hired a helper for half the amount—and he wouldn't have got free rent, plus produce from our garden, either.

Our daughter refuses to bring the grandchildren to see us unless we apologize to her husband. We think it should be the other way around — accompanied by a check. What do you think.

—LONELY GRANDPARENTS

DEAR GRANDPARENTS:

I think that unless both sides give a little, you'll deprive those children of their grandparents.

How to give? That's up to you. Why not invite the family over for Sunday dinner and work out a compromise? Someone must make the first move. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

I've searched the library and have found no books on "male change of life." Yet I've heard that men sometimes have an even more pronounced change than women do—in their attitudes, actions, etc.

We've been married 39 years and my husband isn't the same man he used to be. —HELP

DEAR HELP:

After 39 years, who is the same person he (or she) used to be? "Male change of life" is a polite way to say "He's feeling old, tired, beaten, and the juices don't flow as they once did." At this point, a few males take to drink and chasing, others withdraw in deep depression. Most weather the storm—and they can be helped through it faster by their doctors, and by understanding wives. —H.

DEAR YELEN:

I read not long ago that students were donating blood to the Blood Bank as a protest against a raise in college tuition fees. I don't know whether it worked or not, but this seems to me a good idea—when young people feel they must protest, why don't they do something constructive that will gain attention for their cause, rather then march or riot?

Maybe if they'd name a "Give Your Blood for Peace" day, it would not only provide enough plasma and whole blood for wounded servicemen, but would prove their dedication to the cause of peace. —DAN

DEAR DAN:

And the slogan might be, "Let your blood end blood-letting." Good idea. — H.

New PEO Chapter President Is Mrs. J. H. Heginbotham

PEO, an international philanthropic and educational organization, has added a new chapter with the organization of chapter SR in Tiburon. Mrs. J. Howard Heginbotham of Tiburon, a PEO member for 40 years, is president of the new chapter.

A past president of Chapter K in Utah and Chapter I in Washington, D.C., Lois White Heginbotham has held local and state PEO offices and has been a delegate to the Supreme Conventions.

Mrs. Heginbotham came to Tiburon in 1967 when her husband was assigned to duty as supervising metallurgist of the Marine Technology Program of the U.S. Bureau of Mines in Tiburon. Prior to that they traveled throughout the world and lived abroad for eight years while fulfilling assignments in the South Pacific, Turkey, Africa, India and the Middle East, where Mr. Heginbotham worked on the development of the minerals in the Dead Sea.

They also spent 10 years in Washington, D.C., where Mrs. Heginbotham, starting as a volunteer consultant and later working for the government, headed a program of orientation of American women going overseas.

The couple have two sons: Erland Howard Heginbotham, who is with the U.S. Department of State, and Stanley Jay Heginbotham, assistant director of the South Asian Institute in Columbia.

The new president, who attended the University of Colorado, the University of California and Colorado State Teachers' College, has taught school in Colorado, Montana and Washington. She is still active in the educational field and participates in public speaking events, play readings, book reviews and slide lectures.

She derives her greatest enjoyment from contributing to worthwhile development of women's organizations. In addition to PEO she belongs to the Westminster Presbyterian Church in Tiburon, YWCA, Alpha Chi Omega Alumnae, Panhellenic, United Nations Speakers Bureau, English Speaking Union, Foreign Service Wives Club and the Goodwill Industries Guild.

ON THE AGENDA

Sunny Hills Orientation Series Begins Thursday At The Home

Sunny Hills' first orientation program of the 1970 series will be held Thursday at 10 a.m. at the Sunny Hills Home in San Anselmo. Sunny Hills members and other interested persons are invited to hear the program, which has been planned to help volunteers understand the problems of the emotionally handicapped child and to show them how Sunny Hills meets the challenge. The series will also call attention to Sunny Hills' 75th anniversary.

Executive director Richard Pancost and John W. Brewer, chief of the Marin County Probation Dtpartment will both speak during the program, and there will be a tour of the cottages and school.

Reservations chairman is Mrs. Richard Mittelstaedt of Greenbrae, and reservations may be made through the Sunny Hills Home.

MADELAINE DUCKLES, one of three women who recently returned from North Vietnam bringing letters from American prisoners of war, will speak at a public meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday at Brown's Hall in Mill Valley. The meeting is sponsored by the Marin unit of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom.

HUGH PENMAN, Terra Linda High School history teacher, will speak Wednesday at a meetingw of Episcopal Churchwomen at the Church of Our Saviour in Mill Valley following an 8 p.m. evening prayer service.

Penman has recently returned from a sabbatical in the Middle East and Africa, and will discuss the tensions in that part of the world. He holds a master's degree from the University of California in Middle East history, spent four months in 1964 studying and traveling in the Middle East on a Fulbright scholarship besides his six months' sabbatical there last year.

His course in Middle East history at Terra Linda High school is said to be unique in American high school curricula.

Mrs. William Cullen and her staff of officers will be installed preceding the program.

MILL VALLEY, Bethel 119, International Order of Job's Daughters, will hold an initiation-inspection meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Mill Valley Masonic Temple. Initiates will be Sadie Hooper, Susan Perry and Christine Carlson.

The new Bethel Guardian council consists of Edward Windsor, associate guardian and Mmes. Dolph Jaeger, guardian-secretary; Roy Everett, guardian-treasurer; Jack Younger, director of music; William F. Bromm, promoter of sociability; William Maxwell, custodian of paraphernalia; John P. Riedel, director of finance; John Linker, director of epochs; and Robert Andersen, chairman of hospitality.

THE TIBURON Peninsula Club will hold its Annual Crab Feast Friday. The family-style dinner will begin with cocktails at 6 p.m., followed by two dinner seatings at 6:30 and 7:30 p.m. A children's movie will be shown at 7 p.m. Three-hundred pounds of crab will be caught Friday. About 160 members and guests will attend.

Mrs. Edward McFetridge, dinner chairman, is assisted by Mrs. Douglas Scott, Mrs. Dennis Rice and Mrs. Bonnie Raisin of Tiburon.

THE SUNNY Hills Bargain Box will hold a silent auction Saturday at 2 p.m. Articles to be sold are on display at 607 Irwin Street in San Rafael, this week preceding the sale. Some unusual pieces are an old pocket watch, a scale, a china basket, a velvet photograph album, a ukelele and a carved black jade figurine.

THE THIRTY-first annual meeting of the Belvedere Nursery School corporation will be held Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Btlvedere Community Hall.

A comparison of U.S. early-childhood education with England and Scandinavia, featuring color slides, will be presented by Mrs. Robert Bastian, executive director. She made a study-tour of these countries last summer. Ideas in design and philosophy from these foreign schools will be incorporated in the new Belvedere Nursery School to be built June 15.

Mrs. B. G. Falk, president for the past two ytars, will preside at election of trustees and officers. Voting members are the parents of children at Belvedere, Tiburon-Strawberry and Hawthorne Nursery Schools.

THE ANTIQUES Study Group of the Novato Newcomers Club will meet at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday at the Novato home of Mrs. Esther Lowenberg.

The program will feature "Staffordshire China," and a white elephant sale will be held. Reservations chairmen are Mmes. Lowenberg and Edgar Garland.

Members of the Antiques Study Group plan to attend the "Antiques in a Castle" show to be held in Berkeley on Thursday. Mrs. Garland is accepting reservations for the motor pool.

THE NORTH Bay Council of the Children's Home Society will meet at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow at Sonoma Joe's restaurant in Petaluma. Members from Tom Thumb, Peter Pan and Jolly Rogers Chapters of Marin, Chicken Little and Rose Red Chapters of Sonoma and Golden Goose Chapter of Napa will attend.

A speaker from the Minority Adoption Committee will be featured on the program.

Wash Separately

Wash and wear, or permanently pressed, garments should always be washed separately from other articles as they have a tendency to pick up soil from previous washer loads.

Michael S. Gilmer Claims Bride Saturday In San Diego

MRS. MICHAEL GILMER

Michael Swift Gilmer claimed Terry Lee Meagher as his bride Saturday in an afternoon ceremony at Northminster Presbyterian Church in San Diego. A reception followed at the San Diego home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Baxter Meagher.

The bridegroom is the son of Col. (ret.) and Mrs. Dan Gilmer of San Rafael.

Kathleen Ann Meagher was her sister's maid of honor, and the bride's other sisters, Linda and Nancy Meagher, were bridesmaids.

The bridegroom's brother, Lt. Cmdr. David S. Gilmer of Minneapolis, Minn., was best man, and ushers were Greg Schmidt of Granada Hills, Scott Akers of Walnut Creek, Toshiyuki J. Okuda of Hawthorne and the bride's brother, Steven Meagher.

Terry is a graduate of the federal art conservatory program at Mesa Junior College and attends San Diego State College.

Michael was graduated from the University of California at Davis, where he was a member of Scabbard and Blade. Mrs. Burton A. Seeley of San Rafael is his grandmother. He is doing graduate work toward a master's degree in biology at San Diego State.

The couple will live in San Diego following a wedding trip touring the southern midwestern states.

Beef Or Gravy

A food product labeled "beef and gravy" will give more meat for a meal. However, an item labeled "gravy and beef" has more gravy to use in sauces or casseroles. This is according to standards for meat labels, set by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Cubes Won't Stick

To prevent ice cubes from sticking to the bottom of the tray after some have been removed, put aluminum foil in the bottom of the tray.

MUSIC REVIEW

Excellent Chamber Music Evening

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

A successful departure from previous procedures and locale was the winter concert last night in the Dominican College concert series.

Ordinarily heard in their own series, the Winifred Baker Chorale and the Marin Arts Quartet, composed of violinists Charles Meacham and Michael Gerling, violist Elizabeth Bell and cellist Jean Mitchell, appeared under the auspices of the college. And instead of performing in Angelico Hall with its acoustical problems, they played in the more intimate setting of Caleruega Hall.

This is a splendid place with the right acoustics for chamber and somewhat larger concerts. The seating capacity last night of approximately 250 is about the number of people usually interested in this kind of concert in Marin.

The program was something of a departure from the usual also. Opening with an oddly timed sequence of Christmas carols, "The Seven Joys of Christmas" written (and directed last night) by the highly acclaimed San Francisco composer Kirke Mechem, it concluded with the brilliant Vivaldi Chamber Mass featuring two gifted Marin sopranos, Gwen Curatilo and Maria Alessi.

Between the two choral works the Haydn Quartet in G, Opus 77, No. 1, formed an elegant interlude.

Major work of the evening was the Vivaldi Mass, which the 50-voice chorus sang well with Miss Baker directing. It had full, round sonority, careful attention to technical and expressive details and quite good balance considering there were only 11 male voices.

Miss Curatilo's performance was in line with her reputation as one of the Bay Area's major sopranos, and interest centered on the debut of Miss Alessi. Her voice had a lovely mellow mezzo quality and, after some breathy insecurity at the start, she went on to sing beautifully In duets, however, she was at time no match in volume for Miss Curatilo.

Miss Alessi is a welcome addition to the Marin musical roster.

The "Seven Joys of Christmas" were indeed joyous — the joy of love (English), of bells (French), of Mary (German), of children (Bergundian), of the new year (Japanese), of dance (Spanish), and of song (English). I would strongly recommend that directors of Christmas music add these carols to their repertoire next year. They were probably heard to best advantage with the composer directing and Miss Baker accompanying at the piano.

The Marin Arts Quartet played with its usual skill and fine musicianship, and accompanying the Vivaldi mass effectively, though the trumpet was occasfonally shrill, was a group of top professional musicians: Raymond Duste, oboe; Edward Haug, trumpet, and Robaline Meacham, harpsichord.

Strings Shine, Soloists Vibrant In Opener Of Youth Orchestra

Polished, beautifully balanced string choirs and several fine soloists were the focus of attention yesterday afternoon at the first concert of the 16th season of the Marin Youth Orchestra at San Rafael High School.

Taking advantage of the high level of the strings this year in this orchestra of some 75 young people from 18 Marin elementary and high schools, director Hugo Rinaldi chose a program that showed the strings ability. Rarely does the opening number prove a high point of a concert, but because of the strings this was true of the Bach-Stokowski Aria from the Overture No. 3 in D Major.

There could be no better proof of the Marin Symphony Guild's wisdom in sponsoring the workshop for strings which trains younger players for the youth orchestra.

The other numbers in which the strings shone were in the second part—the young prince and the young princess—from the Rimsky-Korsakoff "Scheherazade," the soft obbligato providing a perfect setting for Mary Helen Weinstein's violin solo in "The Lark Ascending" by Vaughan Williams, and the brilliant finale, "Movement for Orchestra" by Vaclav Nelhybel.

Miss Weinstein, who was the major soloist of the afternoon, displayed very superior talent and training in the clear, sweet tone she produced and the command in negotiating trills and other technical feats required to suggest the song of the lark in the Williams work.

"Scheherazade" was uneven, except for the string quality, after a rather uncertain start, but it had some outstanding soloists. The fine violin playing of Miss Weinstein and Carol Tomlinson I had heard, so that it was Peter Maunu's performance on the violin that was of special interest to me, since I had never heard him. He played with secure technique and sensitivity and showed much promise.

Some of the briefly featured instrumentalists in the woodwinds and brass were very good, others not so good.

One evidence of Rinaldi's admirable control was the way in which he kept the volume of the full orchestra to the proper level to allow the soloists and featured bits to make a clear impression.

New to me and very interesting because of its colorful orchestration, stimulating cacophony and complex rhythms was the contemporary "Movement for Orchestra," of Nelhybel. The youngsters passed this test with flying colors. MPS.

Bagley Back With Bill To Reform Appraiser's System

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, today reintroduced a bill to reform the state's 57-year-old system of having inheritance tax appraisers appointed by the state controller.

The present controller, Republican Houston I. Flournoy, campaigned in 1966 on a pledge to replace the present system with one allowing self appraisal and creating a staff of professional appraisers in the controller's office.

Flournoy, and the system's many other critics, have charged it has been abused in the past as a device for raising campaign funds from political appointees.

Bagley has tried since 1962 to get the reform bill through the Legislature, each year getting the bill a little further along in the process before it was killed.

Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post has estimated that abolishing the present system would save heirs and taxpayers about $3.6 million in the first full year of operation, largely because of the self-appraisal provision for money, currency, bank accounts, listed stocks and other securities with clearly defined market value.

Flood Damage Loan Operation Extended

A loan officer for the federal Samll Business Administration will remain at least through this week at the Civic Center to take applications from home and business owners who want low-cost federal loans to repair flood damage.

F. Vincent Kenney of San Rafael, the loan officer, may be reached in the office of clerk of the Marin County Board of Supervisors on the third floor of the Civic Center. His office hours are 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Musical 'Wagon Show' Set To Roll

Two performances of an original musical, "Wagon Show," will be presented by the San Francisco Players Guild at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. Saturday in the San Rafael High School auditorium.

The show is the second offering in the Junior Theater of Marin's 25th winter series of plays planned for youngsters from 5 to 11-years-old.

"Wagon Show" recalls the medicine shows which, beginning in the 1870s, traveled through the small towns of the United States hawking faoled cures and using entertainment to draw crowds.

The show is produced and directed by Martha Bigelow Eliot of Belvedere. Charlotte Wax of Sausalito designed the sets and costumes and executed the sets. Among the cast are John Brebner, head of Marin Shakespeare Festival, Philip Sheridan of Mill Valley, and Alice Perry of Sausalito.

$27.3 Million Offer In Thalidomide Cases

ALSDORF, Germany, (AP) — The West German producer of thalidomide today offered an out-of-court settlement of $27.3 million for children allegedly crippled by the drug.

The pharmaceutical company, Chemie Gruenenthal of Stolberg, made the offer in an avowed effort to end a marathon trial of seven past and present company officials and scientists and to avert lengthy civil court hearings on pending damage suits.

The company issued its statement as the trial, which began in May 1968, went into its 199th session at a rented dance hall in this small mining town outside of Aachen.

"The firm of Chemie Gruenenthal Gmbh is prepared to make 100 million marks ($27.3 million) available to the (congenitally malformed) children.

The only precondition is that all further risks for the firm and the dependents will thereby are excluded," the statement said.

The offer, directed at the 400 coplaintiffs in the case and more than 2,000 possible damage claimants, corresponded to unofficial, pretrial estimates of damage claims being held in abeyance pending the outcome of the trial.

The possibility of ending the trial through an out-of-court cash settlement first came to light last April when defense attorneys disclosed they were negotiating with coplaintiffs.

This would be possible under German law if the prosecutor agrees.

The seven defendants are charged in a 972-page indictment with negligent manslaughter, inflicting bodily injury and violating federal drug laws through the development of the sleep inducing drug and its sale from 1957 through 1961.

ROSS HOME CRUNCHED BY TREE

Principals Hit Pledge To Flag

NEW YORK (AP) — The High School Principals Association has called on principals of the city's 63 academic high schools to discontinue use of the Pledge of Allegiance each school day.

In a letter mailed to principals today, the association's executive board said the confused legal status of the mandatory pledge made it difficult to conduct the daily ceremony.

About 240,000 students attend the 63 academic high schools.

State law requires that the pledge be recited in each classroom each school morning. But a recent ruling in federal court gave students the right to refuse to recite the pledge.

$1.5 Million Sought For Property Damage

A Tiburon couple has filed suit in Marin Superior Court against the South Tahoe Public Utilities District, charging that the district has done $1.5 million damage to their property in addition to killing $300,000 worth of trees by incorrectly spraying sewage effluent.

In the suit filed Friday, Aram and Stella Harootunian of 28 Marinero Circle said they had entered a two-year lease with the district in 1966 to allow the district to use their 365-acre property at South Lake Tahoe for spraying effluent from the next-door sewage treatment plant.

The district agreed at that time, according to the suit, that the Harootunians would be reimbursed $150 each for any tree over 30 feet tall which was damaged.

However, the Harootunians claim that the district failed to use good engineering practices, and caused oversaturation of the property which resulted in the destruction of 2,000 trees. They also said that more trees will die before the case can come to trial and that erosion and damage to other plant life have caused their property to decline in value $1.5 million.

Harootunian said today that the suit should not have been filed, as the case was near settlement, and that he plans to ask his attorney to withdraw it tomorrow.

Mrs. Machado Candidate For Novato City Council

Betty J. Machado, former candidate for the Novato City Council, today announced that she would run again for the council at the April 14 election.

The terms of Mayor Harley A. McAskill and Councilman Babe Silva expire. McAskill and Wilfred H. Lieb have announced that they will run. Mrs. Machado makes three formally in the race.

Mrs. Machado was named to the first parks and recreation commission, the home-rule committee and the city seal committee. She is a member of Novato Republican Women's Club, Novato Federated Women's Club, charter member of Rancho Parent-Teacher Association and Toastmistress Club.

She regularly attends meetings of the board of supervisors, city council, school board and other public bodies.

She organized public hearings on safety for children, the Parent-Teacher workshop in 1963, the public hearing on the Hill Road extension and is working on the city's purchase of the O'Hair property for a park.

Mrs. Machado, 45, was born in Sausalito and has always lived in Marin. She ran for the city council in 1966. She and her husband, John, with their two children, Paul, 10 and Laura, 9, live at 1424 Dawes Street.

Mrs. Machado said that she believes that there should be a woman on the council to balance it.

"I strongly feel that I have remained on the "fringes" long enough. To be effective, I now require a vote on council level. Too many things are taking place that require a person with a memory and knowledge of background," she said.

Committees' Topics

The three standing committees of the Marin County Board of Education will hold a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow to discuss a proposed regional program of vocational training and anticipated income from state sources for the 1970-71 budget. The committees will meet at the county schools office, 201 Tamal Vista Boulevard, Corte Madera.

President Offers Nation Good Set Of Priorities

President Nixon gave the Congress and the American people a good set of priorities in his "State of the Union" message.

He put peace first.

"No goal could be greater than to make the next generation the first in this century in which America was at peace with every nation in the world," he said.

Few can quarrel with that. It is a noble aim. It may be the hardest of all to achieve — but that is the more reason it should have first priority.

CLOSE BEHIND PEACE, he put reform. He called for reform of the welfare system, reform of all institutions of government, reforms to assure equal voting rights, equal opportunity rights, equal property rights.

Here, the President proved himself a highly perceptive, man. The cries of youth and the cynicism of age both are due largely to faults in our government and society that make justice, opportunity and rights unequal. The more militant youth blame it on the system; the more knowledgeable adults, on faults within the system's machinery, which can be corrected by reform.

It is a long time since we have had a reform president. We need one.

THEN MR. NIXON turned his attention to inflation. And in doing so, he put his finger on its major cause. He said:

"Millions of Americans are forced to go into debt today because the federal government decided to go into debt yesterday. We must balance our federal budget so that American families will have a better chance to balance their family budgets."

This is a hard fact simply stated. All the talk of controlling interest rates and flow of credit to curb inflation is idle talk while government keeps borrowing. When interest rates rise, they rise for the government, too. And when the government pays over 8 per cent on its short-term borrowings — as it is now doing for the first time since the Civil War — the bite comes out of the taxpayer. When the taxpayer must work one day out of three to finance government — as many must do now — he must receive exhorbitant pay to survive, and that is passed on in the cost of goods and service. The place to strike first at inflation is at the top: federal spending.

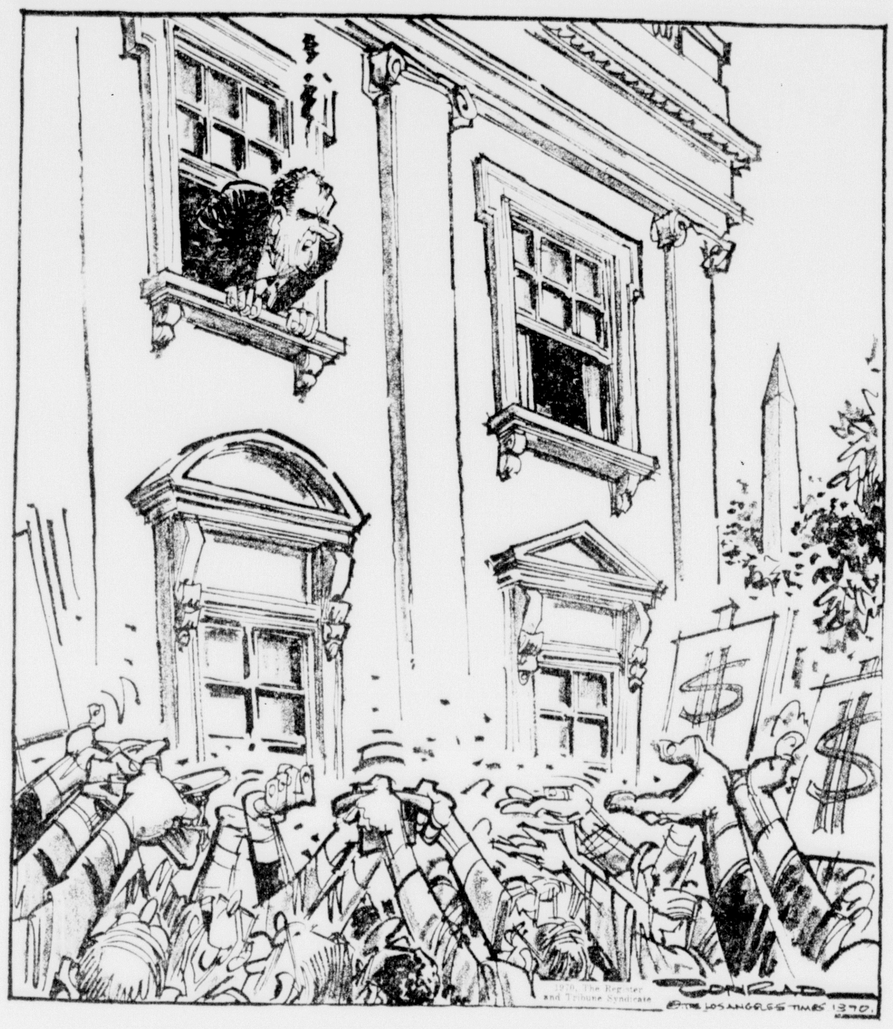
Next, Mr. Nixon called for concentration on crime suppression through law enforcement.

"In the field of organized crime, narcotics and pornography, the federal government has a special responsibility," he said. This obviously is true. These are not crimes that can be controlled at the local level.

HE CALLED THEN for action to save and improve the environment — the battle cry of 1970.

In doing so, he gave first priority to cleaning up the nation's lakes and rivers. This is a job that can be done. Mr. Nixon believes it can be done in five years. This sounds reasonable. It will cost money — but only a fraction of the money spent on weapons of death, only about half the money spent to send the first men to the moon. And how much more useful an expenditure then either of these!

It is a good set of priorities. We hope the President sticks to it. And we hope Congress adopts it also.



"Who do you think I am — Michael J. Brody?"

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Letters to "What Our Readers Say" are welcomed. Only letters with signatures and addresses will be considered. Please keep them under 200 words. We reserve the right to cut letters.

We Must Sacrifice To Save Environment

Regarding the ecology crisis — many people are complaining about the burning ban, and they may have a point, though I am of the opinion that every little bit counts. They all point out that automobiles and industry are the real culprits—true! So let them and all the rest of us keep hammering away on this point—to the government at all levels, to Detroit, to all involved industries . . . Otherwise we'll only end up with a burning ban which doesn't really increase our breahing space and only adds to our garbage problem. But more than that, we will have to demonstrate action ourselves which will mean sacrifices—we cannot buy any more automobiles with the current smog belching system. We must wait for new developments in automobiles, convert our cars to natural gas, get one of the new electric cars for short-distance driving, organize car pools, ride bikes, walk . . . And we must be on our toes as to which industries are doing what about the problem, and use our dollar votes to buy from those who are acting positively . . .

We can do something about the garbage problem — we seem to have an infinite amount of money to spend on things we can throw away, but we have only a finite amount of space in which to throw it. It is time to learn to conserve and re-use and re-cycle everything we can. Throw-away bottles are insanity—don't buy them . . .

Big Brother Finds Service Rewarding

May I commend you on your editorial of last Friday (Jan. 16) in which you welcomed the Big Brothers Organization to Marin County.

I was an active Big Brother during the years of 1957 to 1960 and found it to be rewarding not only to the "Little Brothers" who were helped but also to those who gave of their service.

The Big Brother movement is one where actual service on the part of the individual can show its own reward as compared to the multitude of donations and charitable drives of which we are asked to contribute not knowing how much of our actual contributions are actually aiding those in need.

I have kept in close contact with my "Little Brother" of previous years, we both now living in Marin County, and can see the results of my efforts.

I would like to encourage all men to look into this organization for the need of Big Brothers is always present.

In these times it seems that being treated with courtesy is becoming rare and yet it is still taken for granted. I just wanted to let you and your readers know that I recently placed a couple of advertisements for a lost dog in your paper and I have received understanding and cooperation, not only from the people who responded to the ad, but also from your personnel. This is greatly appreciated.

Don't Know U.N.; It's All We Have

When the United Nations is criticized, as it frequently is, I feel like saying: "Don't knock it: it's all we've got."

The U.N.'s power to keep the peace depends entirely on the will of the member nations, since it is only a league of fully sovereign nations.

Yet in its 24-year history the U.N. has dealt with more than 70 cases involving peace and security. In Cyprus, in the Congo, along the Suez, and elsewhere, it has proved that it is capable of responding effectively to stop or contain local disputes which could lead to general war. Its specialized agencies (UNICEF, UNESCO, World Health Organization, etc.) have provided valuable services around the world.

The fact remains, however, that it would be a very good thing to revise and strengthen the U.N. into a limited, federal world government capable of settling disputes between the nations without violence, as our federal government operates among our states — and with a world development agency to help the under-developed nations. The United States should take the lead in advocating this — because getting rid of the war system is the world's most pressing task.

Clear, Concise Report Appreciated

I want to thank you for the clear, concise manner in which you reported the actions taken by our board of trustees at its special meeting on Jan 15 concerning the tax and bond election proposals. You also presented an excellent description of our financial problems. I know I speak not only for myself but also for members of the school board. Several of them commented to me as to how effectively they felt your reporting of the matter covered the situation.

Scolding, Lollipop In Legal Dispute?

It's a shame that our overcrowded courts have to use their valuable time for the Tiburon backyard dispute and the childish tantrums of the Greens and the Marans. How can people hope to cope with the major problems that this nation has when they can't even solve problems in their own "backyard?" Perhaps the judge should give them a scolding and then a lollipop and send them back home.

Parent Conferences Not Ruled Out

Your editorial of Jan. 19 is the first article I've read in reference to the method of grading in the Reed Union School District that presents the situation fairly and without bias. However, there are two items which must be corrected to state the situation with complete accuracy. The RUSD board did not eliminate parent - teacher conferences, but made them mandatory in addition to letter grades. Parents who desire the omission of letter grades for their children may so request. Of the three newly elected board members, Gordon Wright supported the proposed school tax increase in his bid for election.

THE DRUMMONDS

'State Of The Union' Message Reveals Much About President

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — The President's address to Congress reveals more about the state of Richard Nixon than about the State of the Union.

In substance, style and focus it shows Mr. Nixon to be unconventional, unconservative and—we use the word in its favorable sense—political.

This is not surprising; it was to be expected; it is authentic Nixon.

HE SHOWS HIMSELF a shrewd political strategist by seizing the initiative from the opposition on one domestic issue which anxiously concerns nearly every voter today—the mounting and pervasive pollution of our environment.

That's a political feat. How could the President succeed in doing it at a time when the Democratic leaders in Congress are willing and eager to promise more and spend more than the President can possibly justify until the Vietnamese war is over and inflation under control? Surely the Democrats had every reason to assume that Nixon was boxed in by his own policy from doing more than saying "me, too."

But he did it—and here is how:

BY USING a short, succinct, single-targeted State of the Union address to make one concrete, total commitment: clean up the lakes and rivers of the nation soon and keep them clean.

The President was careful not to promise more than he could deliver; that is authentic Nixon, that is the key to the Nixon approach: that big promises are a political liability, not a political asset, because they raise false hopes, which cannot be fulfilled. Thus Nixon proposed to spend enough and do enough in the visible future to lick completely one of the worst aspects of environmental degradation, the massive, unbridled pollution of lakes and rivers.

This will be a tangible and visible achievement, and it will be an earnest pledge of things to come. It will take money but not so much money that it cracks the dike of a necessarily tight, anti-inflation budget.

THERE ARE TWO other reasons why the administration chose to make cleaning up the lakes and rivers the showcase of its antipollution policy. One is that it can be done effectively and soon because the technology for doing it is already well developed. The other is that ending the pollution of the air cannot be done effectively and soon because the technology for doing it is not yet available. Unless, of course, the public wants to stoh driving automobiles and riding in airplanes, which it doesn't. It will probably take another 10 years before a pollutant-free automobile engine can be perfected.

This doesn't mean that other measures across the whole spectrum of pollution are not needed. More is needed and it will be the duty of the new environmental policy council to propose and supervise these measures. More research is needed. More education is needed so the public will be willing to pay the bill. Private inindustry must do more to end its part in pollution—or be made to do so. Uniform state laws will be needed.

There is plenty to do but it is all to the good that Mr. Nixon is proposing to carry through to completeness one very big thing very soon: cleaning up the lakes and rivers.

IT IS AN ASSET, not a weakness, for a president to be political. Strong presidents like Lincoln, the two Roosevelts, Harry Truman were political. It enables a president to respond to public opinion and to escape from past rigidity. Richard Nixon is the first activist Republican politician to be president since Theodore Roosevelt—whom he greatly admires—and this makes him more flexible, more effective and more in tune with majority sentiment.

Mr. Nixon is proving himself to be an unconservative conservative. This is true because he does not use conservative words to neglect national problems but uses conservative principles to deal with them. This disappoints some on the far right and displeases many political liberals. But President Nixon is convinced it is both good policy and good politics. He's probably right.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

CTA Cites Reasons For Its Tax Reform Initiative Push

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO — (CNS) — In line with our policy of presenting the ideas of various organizations on the California Teachers Association — County Supervisors Association initiative for tax reform, the following is presented by Jack D. Rees, executive secretary of the teachers group.

"For nearly four years," he says, "California political leaders, including the governor, have been talking about property tax reform, but have done nothing. Nor can we expect any action in this political year. Neither party seems to have strong enough support on a bipartisan basis to successfully bring property tax relief to the people.

"THIS IS WHY teachers and supervisors are taking the issue to the people, either at the June or November election. We hope to qualify an initiative measure that would mandate statewide property tax relief plus state-local equity in support of local schools.

"If voters approve, the measure would mandate that $1.13 billion in local property taxes by shifted to the much broader and more equitable taxing sources of the state. It would provide tax relief in two ways:

"Require that the state pay 90 per cent of local costs of welfare, including medical, thus shifting $445 million from local property to state sources, and require that the state increase the current $750 property tax exemption to $1,000, thus shifting another $100 million from local to state sources. The initiative also requires that the state restore the 50-50 partnership concept with local taxpayers in paying the cost of schools. This would bring an additional $585 million in state support to schools and mean an average increase of from three to four thousands dollars per classroom and no less than $800 to $1,000 per class-room, depending on the wealth of the school district.

"THIS WOULD provide an improved education program. Districts would be helped in meeting public demand for reduced class size, special help for disadvantaged children, tion and special instruction for children with abnormal learning problems.

"It would mean also a reduction, or at least a leveling off of local school taxes which take the biggest bite out of the property tax."

State support of local school has dropped to 35 per cent of the total costs, Rees says.

WORTH SAYING AGAIN

The liberal tradition does not need defending. It needs liberals. — Margaret Halsey.

With newspapers, there is sometimes disorder; without them, there is always slavery. — Benjamin Constant.

One of the tenets of democracy . . . is a deep belief in civil liberties and their protection, and a repugnance to anyone who would steal from a human being that which is most precious to him — his good name — either by imputing things to him by innuendo or by insinuation.— David E. Lilienthal.

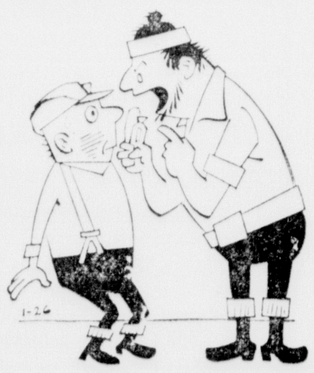
TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

Wearied of a steady diet of canned pork and beans, a lumber camp crew dispatched a representative chosen by lot to hike 30 miles to the nearest town to buy something different. He returned in due course toting 12 quarts of whiskey and two 10-cent candy bars. The burliest luberjack roared angrily, "What do you expect us to do with all that candy?"

The president of a small railroad in the North Woods dumped his ski gear into a station waiting room one night and was angered to discover that there was no heat at all. He complained bitterly to the agent who told him, "Look, mister, I'm too busy sending telegrams to bother with stoves." The president seized a telegraph blank and wrote theron, "Superintendent in Boston: Fire agent this station at once."



He shoved the telegram through the window. Seconds thereafter the agent emerged from his cubbyhole with kindling and a bucket of coal.

"Did you send my telegram?" demanded the president. "Look, mister," grumbled the agent. "I'm too busy building fires to send telegrams!"

Israel May Get Those U.S. Weapons After All

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — There is a good chance the U.S. will sell Israel some of the weapons it is seeking.

White House policy makers are giving that serious consideration.

No decision has been reached, and it's problematical when one will be. Some knowledgeable insiders are of the opinion nothing will be done until after President Pompidou's visit to Washington late next month.

Pentagon authorities strongly favor making more arms available to Israel. Cordial relations have long existed between U.S. and Israeli military.

The State Department, in keeping with the usual so-called "even handed" attitude of that agency toward the oil-rich Middle East, is considerably less enthusiastic.

Foremost wanted by Israel are more Phantom supersonic jet fighter-bombers.

IN 1968, President Johnson authorized the sale of 50 of these ace combat planes. About half have been delivered. The remainder are reaching Israel at the rate of four or five a month — depending on production and U.S. requirements.

When Prime Minister Golda Meir visited Washington last fall, she submitted a list of weapons Israel wants to buy. Included, in addition to Phantoms, were ground-to-air missiles, which have token a toll of Egyptian and other Arab planes, anti-aircraft guns, radar and other electronic and communications equipment.

The White House was inclined to take a waft-and-see attitude. But a recent succession of jarring developments forced a change in viewpoint.

THREE FACTORS in particular are behind the White House shift, as follows:

(1) President Pompidou's concluding a $400 million arms deal with Libya, now ruled by young revolutionary pro-Nasser army officers, after denying it was being secretly negotiated. The agreement includes France's taking over operation of the big strategic Wheelus Airbase in Libya, built by the U.S. and from which it is being evicted. Also turning over to Libya the 50 Mirage fighter-bombers bought and paid for by Israel four years ago and then peremptorily embargoed by De Gaulle.

Further, and not generally known, is France's sale to Iraq and Syria of tanks and other military hardware. Similar weapons have been offered Lebanon.

(2) Russia's abrupt reversal of position on favoring Rhodes-type (third party) negotiations between the Arabs and Israel. This was a major feature of the Nixon administration's Middle East peace proposals, and Moscow had indicated it was favorable. Then suddenly, after months of official silence, the Soviet Union harshly blasted the plan and Israel as a stooge and cat's-paw of "imperialists, colonialists and war-mongers."

(3) Growing concern in inner White House and Pentagon quarters that Israel, "out of desperation," may turn to the development of atomic weapons.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By WAT TAKESHITA

Sale Of Courthouse Will Pay Civic Center Upkeep One Year

Most visitors to the $11.8 million Hall of Justice find the building "gorgeous" and "beautiful."

But to maintain it in its gorgeous condition—floors swept and windows polished, rooms lighted and heated—is no simple matter.

The county auditor's office did some figuring and estimated that it would take $422,300 per year to maintain the new building. That comes to about $2.37 per square foot.

In other words, we're paying $664,770 per year just to maintain both structures, measuring a quarter mile from end to end.

OF COURSE, there's more involved than just sweeping and mopping. Maintenance includes other things like lights and ballasts, elevator upkeep, watchmen, utility costs, supplies such as towels, and garbage collection.

The biggest maintenance costs are janitorial services, which are contracted out, labor costs of maintenance crews, and utilities, especially electricity.

All of these costs are necessary, but it's a little overwhelming to think that if and when we sell the old courthouse for $750,000, the proceeds would just about cover the cost of maintaining the Civic Center buildings for a year, not including the grounds and landscaping.

THE MENTAL HEALTH Advisory Board last week recommended a single chain of command, with one line of authority for all community mental health services. In principle, this sounds great, because the squabbles we've been having result from two directors, each under different bosses, banging heads and refusing to budge.

But the real test will come in how to set up a single line of authority where two now exist.

On the one hand we have planning and administration of mental health services by the county director (Dr. Leon Wanerman), responsible to the county supervisors, who are responsible to the people who elected them.

The other is the Marin Mental Health Center, which provides the bulk of mental health services, headed by Dr. Donald Wilson, who is responsible to the Marin General Hospital District board, who are also responsible to the people who elected them.

Since the county can negotiate with the hospital district but not dictate to it, a single line of authority will be difficult to achieve unless one of the elective boards agrees to capitulate to the other, which is highly unlikely.

Veterans Auditorium —Who Will Run It?

Should Marin County take over the operation of the new Veterans Memorial Auditorium and fairgrounds from Fair-Marin and make Fair-Marin only an advisory body?

This question will be discussed tomorrow morning by the Marin County Board of Supervisors, which has been disgruntled with the Fair-Marin board of directors for not raising the $500,000 it promised to complete the auditorium's second phase.

The Fair-Marin discussion is expected to come up about 11 a.m.after the 9 a.m. joint meeting with the Marin Aviation Commission. Supervisors and the aviation commissioners will discuss county aviation in general, operations at Gnoss Field, a possible civilian runway at Hamilton Air Force Base, and heliport sites in the county.

Other major items on the supervisors' agenda include a proposed merger of the Comprehensive Health Planning Council and the Emergency Medical Care Committee, a proposed ordinance amendment to permit the county to grant exclusive franchises for cable television service and a report on delays that will be necessary on a pedestrian guardrail installation along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Greenbrae.

Motel Patron Reports Attack

A 20-year old woman was raped Friday a a man described as tough looking at the rear of a San Rafael motel, police have reported.

The girl told police the man, in his 40s, grabbed her at the top of the stairs at the Bermuda Palms Motel, 737 Francisco Boulevard, where she was staying, and took her to the rear of the building, where he forced her to the pavement.

The victim was treated at Marin General Hospital.

We Live In Age Of Marvels But Too Seldom Question Them

It was one of those crackling January dawns in the days of the cargo-carrying, pot-bellied C-46, when a friend and fellow pilot, Bob Bayliss, was bringing his flight into Knoxville, Tenn. The wind was calm and a flat, thin, spotty fog mottled the earth. The co-pilot called for clearance. Cleared for an instrument approach, they began their descent.

The ship entered the fog. All instruments indicated they were on course and on the glide path, a routine approach. It turned out to be anything but routine.

THE WINGS and props mowed through the tall Jack pines like a grass cutter. Then out of control, the ship crashed into a railway embankment, skidded up, tottered for an instant on top, then slid down the other side, coming to rest with its nose buried in a river and the fuselage, still intact, tilted across the railroad track. Water spurted into the cockpit, then the right engine burst into flames. The six tons of cargo they were carrying had slid forward, smashing against the flimsy aluminum cockpit wall at their backs, but the wall held. They could hear the fire making the river water sizzle but they couldn't reach the valve, an arm's length away just above the instrument panel, to shoot carbon dioxide into the fire. They couldn't reach it because the cockpit metal had crunched around them as if it had been tinfoil, unabling them to move.

It was just as well they didn't know that the express train, on its regular run, was due in seven minutes. Nor did they know the nose of their airplane rested on a narrow sand bar. Had it gone a dozen feet one side or the other into the deep water, both would have drowned. All they knew at the moment and were concerned with was the fire in the right engine— when it would reach their fuel tanks. . .

THEN THE AIRPLANE trembled slightly and shifted to the right, dunking its engine into the water. The fire sputtered out.

The alert tower operator, knowing about the express train, had it stopped. It took a crew with acetylene torches five and one-half hours to cut the pilots out of their metal trap.

They had only minor bruises.

WE LIVE in an age of marvels. Our labyrinth of electronics, our forest of test tubes, our clutter of machinery are within our sphere of understanding. This is our happy delusion. Everything comes in prewrapped packaging, neatly comprehensible. The official report will tell us how it happened. Tomorrow the committee is to meet to determine. . .

We believe we understand and because we believe we understand, we fail to ask the meaningful questions. We pick at the crust. Few dare the depths, few seek the abstruse. We have become more the answer-givers than the question-askers. Give us a little time and enough money and we'll deliver the answer. It's that simple. The great ponderables are no longer troublesome, but only because we have side-stepped them. And in side-stepping them, we short-change ourselves. We fail to experience a sense of awe, a feeling of reverence.

I REMEMBER that night after Bob had come back. We walked through the city's streets together. Neither of us spoke. We found a bench and sat for a long time watching the cars going by. A group of kids came out of the movie house, laughing and pushing each other, their shrill voices lingering after them. A man and woman came by, walking slowly, window shopping. The air was chilly. Bob pulled his collar closer about his neck.

"Nice, isn't it?" he said.

"Yeah."

Championship Cat Show Set

Marin County Cat Fanciers will hold their 18th annual all breed championship cat show March 7 and 8 at the Veterans War Memorial Auditorium in Santa Rosa.

Entrants will be judged in four areas during six shows including two for all breed for both longhair and shorthair cats; two longhair shows and two shorthair shows.

Information may be obtained from Mrs. W. F. Pinckert at 66 Ardmore Road, Larkspur. Proceeds from the show are for the Marin County Humane Society.

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Sometimes It Pays To Stoop To Conquer At The Bridge Table

The admirable thing about the fighting bull is his courage. He charges right at the center of attraction, regardless of the consequences. Nobody has words of praise for the good sense of the fighting bull, and the fact that the bull almost never wins an encounter may have something to do with this. If you suspect that this has something to do with bridge, today's hand will confirm your suspicion.

TRICK IN DUMMY

Dummy wins the first trick with the queen of spades, and even a bullish bridge player can see that his best chance for game is to bring in dummy's long club suit. The true bull will lead the ace of clubs at the second trick, a very courageous play.

East takes the second club and returns a spade to dummy's king, exactly as you might expect. Now there is no further entry to the dummy, and all chance of running the clubs is gone forever. South must play the rest of the hand with great skill to get out for down one.

DIFFERENT ANIMAL

South makes the contract if he knows about a very different animal—the duck. South must duck the early rounds of clubs in order to win a trick with the ace of clubs on the third round.

At the second trick, declarer leads a low club from dummy. East wins and returns a spade to dummy's king. Declarer leads another low club from dummy.

LEADS SPADE

East wins and leads a spade to the ace (nothing else would do him any good). Now, at last, South leads a club to dummy's ace. The last two clubs are good by this time, and South has the lead in the dummy. He cashes the last two clubs and makes his contract with three clubs, three spades, two diamonds and one heart.

The duck is a bridge player's faithful friend; cultivate him. Let the opponents have the bull.

SUMMONS TO ESTABLISH TITLE
NO. 55140

Superior Court of the State of California, County of Marin

CLAIRE MAYTORENA, Plaintiff

v.

EDNA M. HARDER and all other persons unknown claiming any right, title, or interest in the lien on the real property described in the complaint which is a cloud upon plaintiff's title thereto, TITLE INSURANCE AND TRUST COMPANY, successor in interest to SAN RAFAEL LAND TITLE COMPANY, a California cooperation, Defendants

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA:

To all the above named defendants and other persons claiming any interest in, the lien upon, the real property herein described or any part thereof, defendants, greeting:

You are hereby notified to appear and answer the complaint of CLAIRE MAYTORENA, plaintiff, filed with the Clerk of the above-entitled Court and County, within three months after the first publication of this Summons, and to set forth what interest in the lien described in the complaint, if any, you have in or upon that certain real property or any part thereof, situated in the City of Tiburon, County of Marin, State of California, particularly described as follows:

COMMENCING at a point on the southerly line of Mar East Street, distant South 76° 57' West 224.3 feet and South 04° 31' East 250.4 feet from Stone Monument No. 169, as said street and stone monument are shown on "Map of Lyford's Hygeia" filed in the office of the County Recorder of the County of Marin, August 23, 1894; running thence South 27° 23' East 99.5 feet, North 60° 27' East 35.0 feet; thence North 24° 24' West 95.55 feet to the southerly line of Mar East Street; thence along southerly line of Mar East Street South 66° 25' West 40.0 feet to the place of commencement.

TOGETHER with that certain parcel of land bounded on the North by the south line of the tract above described, on the south by the exterior boundary of the Rancho Corte Madera del Presidio, and on the east and west by the extension southerly of the east and west boundary lines of the tract above described.

And you are hereby notified that, unless you so appear and answer the plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint, to-wit: That the deed of trust dated September 6, 1940 naming San Rafael Land Title Company as Trustee and defendant EDNA M. HARDER as beneficiary and recorded on September 7, 1940 in Book 403, page 350 of Official Records of the County Recorder, County of Marin, State of California, is cancelled of record and expunged from the Official Records of the County Recorder, County of Marin, State of California, and that plaintiff is owner of said property in fee simple absolute; free and clear of the aforementioned mortgage or lien and that plaintiff recover her costs herein and for such further relief as may be meet in the premises.

If you are served with the summons and complaint you are directed to file with the clerk of this Court in which the above entitled action is brought a written pleading in response to the complaint within TEN DAYS AFTER THE SERVICE ON YOU OF THIS SUMMONS IF SERVED WITHIN THE ABOVE NAMED COUNTY, OR WITHIN THIRTY DAYS IF SERVED ELSEWHERE (except that if the action is against the state pursuant to Section 738.5 of the Code of Civil Procedure, within 180 days). You are notified that unless you so file a written responsive pleading, the plaintiff will take judgment for any money or damages demanded in the complaint, as arising upon contract, or will apply to the Court for any other relief demanded in the complaint.

Many Items On Agenda

Replacement of two members of the three-member Fairfax Design Review Board will be discussed by the Fairfax City Council at 8 p.m. today at the Fairfax Women's Club.

Chairman Norman T. Gilroy said Jan. 5 he would not be a candidate for reappointment when his term expires this month and Harold S. Lezzini said he would also quit effective at the end of Gilroy's term.

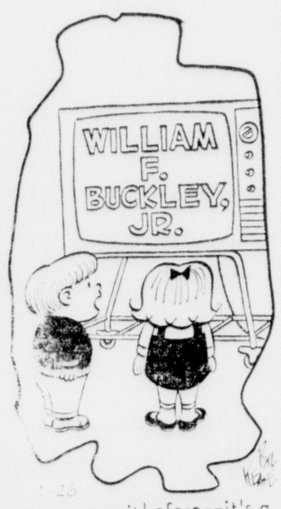
The council will also consider the resignation of Conway E. Enscoe, park and recreation commissioner, who is leaving the commission this month.

A report on the proposed annexation of Deer Park to the city will also be given at the meeting.

Executive Director Donald O. Stutsman and Vera Schultz of the Marin County Housing Authority will discuss a proposed ballot measure for increased low-rent housing at the meeting.

Retirement Plan

A proposed employee retirement plan will be discussed at a special meeting of the Richard Bay Sanitary District board Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Trestle Glen Sanitary plant, 500 Tiburon Boulevard, Tiburon.



"I've seen it before--it's a foreign language program."

BEST SHOWS FOR TONIGHT

Best bets on television tonight:

KGO (7), KNTV (11), 7:30 p.m. — Bette Davis makes a rare television appearance in "Touch of Magic" on ABC's "It takes a Thief."

KRON(4) KCRA (3), 8 p.m. — Dan Rowan and Dick Martin welcome Tony Curtis to their "Laugh-In" show.

KGO (7), KNTV (11), 8:30 p.m. — Elizabeth Taylor Katharine Hepburn and Montgomery Clift star in the movie drama, "Suddenly, Last Summer," based on the Tennessee Williams story. Albert Dekker and Mercedes McCambridge also appear.

KPIX (5), 9 p.m.—Bob Hope, Arthur Godfrey, Gen. Emmett (Rosey) O'Donnell and the Dubliners, an Irish folk-singing group, are guests on the first of three Group W one-hour specials, "The Best of David Frost."

Good News For Luxury Liner Hit With Typhoid

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — Passengers aboard the typhoid-stricken luxury liner Oronsay, quarantined in this western Canada port since Jan. 13, got good news and buckets of golf balls Sunday.

The good news was conditional: if the carrier responsible for the typhoid outbreak aboard the P & O Line ship has been located—and health authorities are "reasonably certain" he has been—the ship will continue its voyage to Hawaii and Australia on Feb. 2.

The "buckets of golf balls" were requested by some of the 900 passengers still aboard to help relieve the boredom. Vancouver area residents who responded to the requests also sent along magazines.

About 70 persons, 15 of them passengers, have been hospitalized since the disease was discovered two weeks ago.

Federal health officials say they think they have located the carrier of the disease, but are awaiting special test materials being flown from London. They say they expect to know definitely within a few days.

A spokesman for the company said the passengers welcomed the news on the sailing, but about 250 of them will leave the ship because they are anxious to reach their destinations.

Current Events Lectures Slated

A series of seven illustrated lectures on current events and world affairs, sponsored by the College of Marin community education series, will start at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 9 at the Tamalpais retirement residence, 501 Via Casita, Larkspur.

The lecturer will be Leo Vuosalo, who recently completed a two-year assignment in Finland and lectured at Finnish universities and adult institutions. The series will be given at 7:30 p.m. on seven consecutive Mondays at the Tamalpais.

Lecture topics will be Europe revisited, a comparison of Europe and America, Finland today, Germany, Sweden, Switzerland, the Soviet Union, and Communist and non-Communist Europe.

First paper dress patterns were put on the market in 1863.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Marcus Welby Has Top Drawing Power

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Notes to watch television by:

The shows: ABC-TV's new medical series with Robert Young, "Marcus Welby, M.D.," finished No. 1 in the national ratings for the week ending Jan. 11...To no one's surprise, the series has been renewed for next season—a big personal coup for Young, former star of "Father Knows Best"...Following "Welby" in the ratings were "Family Affair," "Gunsmoke," "Laugh-In" and "Hawaii Five-O," a police series that has picked up strongly in popularity since being switched to its late Wednesday time slot.

Danny Thomas will return to television on a weekly basis this fall in a new, half-hour, ABC-Tv situation comedy, "Make Room for Granddaddy," a sequel to his old series, which originally was titled "Make Room for Daddy"...Thomas will also have an hour variety show on CBS-Tv Wednesday, with his guests including Bob Hope, Carol Channing, Dionne Warwick, Juliet Prowse and Tim Conway ...NBC-Tv's Smothers Brothers Special on Feb. 16 will feature Peter Fonda (currently of "Easy Rider" fame), Glen Campbell and David Frye.

The March 7 total eclipse of the sun will be the subject of an hour special on CBS-Tv the same day...the title is "Earth in the Shadow of the Moon—The Solar Eclipse"...and CBS-Tv says present plans for the broadcast "call for remote cameras to follow the path of the eclipse as it cuts its 82-mile-wide path along this continent"... NBC-TV's "First Tuesday" offers a report on the Israeli Air Force Feb. 3...Same network has also concluded a new long-term arrangement to continue "The Wonderful World of Disney" series, which maintains its popularity despite the death of the cartoonist-executive-host.

The headliners: Vice President Spiro Agnew is interviewed on CBS-TV's "Face The Nation" this Sunday...California Gov. Ronald Reagan visits the same network's Carol Burnett series tonight... Richard Chamberlain, formerly video's "Dr. Kildare," will star in a two-hour production of "Hamlet" on NBC-TV's "Hallmark Hall of Fame" next season...He got good reviews in the role in England last year.. Ex-movie star Don Ameche directed the Feb. 17 episode of NBC-Tv's "Julia."

Bing Crosby hosts the final broadcast of ABC-TV's "Hollywoodk Palace" Feb. 7, and the show will offer reruns of performances by Fred Astaire, Ethel Merman, Ella Fitzgerald, Jimmy Durante, Ed Wynn, Martha Raye, The Tijuana Brass, Ray Bolger, Dean Martin and Gene Kelly...Troy Donahue becomes a regular on CBS-TV's soap opera "The Secret Storm this week, playing "A baby-faced opportunist" ...and Jan Sterling has joined another CBS-TV soaper, "The Guiding Light," portraying a maid1

Terra Linda Art Is On Display

Paintings by eight members of the Terra Linda Art Association are on display through Feb. 27 at the American Savings and Loan Association at 550 Las Gallinas Avenue, San Rafael.

Artists participating in the show are: Mary Arlett of San Rafael; Genevieve Baker, Carol Durham and Shirley Weber, all of Terra Linda; Cathy Banks, Bea Eskenazi and Ann Goldstein, all of Marinwood and Betty Mobley of Novato.

President Of Mexico Hosts Johnson, Wife

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP) — Former President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson were Sunday dinner guests of President and Mrs. Gustavo Diaz Ordaz.

Also a guest was former President Miguel Aleman, now head of Mexico's tourist council. The Johnsons, here for a vacation expected to last several weeks, are staying at a house he owns at nearby Puerto Marques.

Government aid to education is based on the census.

The Census figures show us how many children are in school now. From them we can project the school population for years to come. From kindergarten through college.

One of the easiest and most effective ways to support your schools is to fill in your Census Form accurately. It takes only a short time. And you'll be doing your part to keep your kids from coming out on the short end of federal aid to education.

Be sure you do it. You won't have another chance for years.

We can't know where we're going if we don't know where we are.

HELP TAKE THE PRESSURE-PAIN OUT OF PILES

by easing the itching, burning irritation of elimination...inside and out

Hemorrhoid sufferers, you really know how "flare-ups" can produce burning, irritation and discomfort. Regularity can bring further pressure and pain. Constipation is even worse! Doctors may prescribe an aid, like a stool softener, as part of their treatment, when surgery is not called for.

That's why new COUNTERNOID™ is so important. It's a formula that works as no other hemorrhoid remedy can:

1. COUNTERNOID's effective anti-pain drug eases sore, sensitive tissue for hours.
2. At the same time, COUNTERNOID acts to soothe and protect inflamed areas.
3. COUNTERNOID then actually softens even hard stools for easier passage.

By interrupting the friction-swelling-pain cycle of elimination, in many cases, COUNTERNOID lets swollen, inflamed tissue shrink...naturally.

COUNTERNOID, clinically tested by doctors, is now available from your pharmacist. Available in suppository and white cream form.

Dieting Among Pro Golfers Could Be Catching

By JOE SARGIS

PEBBLE BEACH (UPI) — This dieting among pro golfers could be catching, especially since it seems to be working.

First, it was Jack Nicklaus who went on a diet and immediately won a pair of tournaments.

Now, it's Bert Yancey, who started a diet a month ago, lost five pounds and went out and won the Bing Crosby National Pro-Am Sunday. And the fellow he beat was none other than Nicklaus.

Yancey, unruffled and unrattled until almost the end by a charge by Nicklaus, won with a final round three under par 69 that gave him a 72-hole score of 10 under par 278.

Nicklaus, playing in his first tourney of the year after a month's layoff, shot a final round 65 over Pebble Beach to tie the Crosby record but it wasn't quite enough for the former "Big Bear" from Ohio State. He wound up at 279, but won $14,389 that put him into the millionaires bracket along with Arnold Palmer and Billy Casper.

This day, though, belonged to Yancey, a 31-year-old pro from Pompano Beach, Fla., who previously had won only five tournaments compared to 28 for Nicklaus.

"There are certain days when you wake up you feel great," said Yancey. "I knew this was going to be one of those days you always hope for."

It was in many ways for Yancey, who didn't play exceptionally well but controlled his game from start to finish over three of the toughest golf courses in the world.

He opened the tourney with a five under 67 at Cypress Point, went on to shoot a 70 at Spyglass Hill and an even par 72 at Pebble Beach in the third round.

In Sunday's wrapup round, he kept his ball in play at all times.

"I made some good golf shots," said Bert, "and I also made some bad ones, but somehow the bad ones didn't hurt me. I guess you need a little luck, too, to win."

Nicklaus played several groups ahead of Yancey and simply tore up the front side At Pebble Beach, regarded by him and Yancey as one of the "greatest tests of golf anywhere."

Jack had four birds and an eagle to make the turn in six under 30. Yancey claimed he instructed his caddy not to tell him what was going on. He didn't want to know.

Meanwhile, Bert was playing some pretty good golf of his own, not spectacular but good enough. He rattled in four birds on the front side and the only thing to mar the performance was a bogey on the par three fifth when he hit into the woods.

Finally, even though he was shooting well himself, Yancey asked his caddy to find out Nicklaus' score. That was after Yancey ran home a short putt for a par on the 17th that kept him a stroke in front.

Yancey shouldn't have worried. On the 18th, he went for the flag on a 40 foot bird putt and missed by just a foot. The tap-in became a mere formality as he wound things up.

Bobby Nichols and Howie Johnson finished in a tie for third at 283, five under par, and won $7,350 each. Next came George Archer and Paul Harney at 284 with each winning $4,327.

Archer won the Crosby last year by a stroke.

The big casualties in this year's Crosby were Casper, whose caddy failed to show up on time causing Billy to be disqualified, Arnold Palmer, U. S. Open Champ Orville Moody and PGA king Ray Floyd. Palmer finished at 292, Moody at 293 and Floyd at 290.

The tour now moves on to San Diego for the Andy Williams Open.

Naturally, Yancey will be there.

CONCENTRATION — Bert Yancey doesn't let that crashing surf bother him as he sinks a birdie putt on the seventh green of the Pebble Beach course. (UPI Telephoto)

Marin Tar Rally Falls Short

A great comeback wasn't enough in a great rivalry for College of Marin's basketball team Saturday night in Santa Rosa.

The Tars, down by as much as 18 points in the second half, rallied to tie it, missed a game-winner with 10 seconds to go and finally lost in overtime to arch-rival Santa Rosa Junior College, 80-78, in a key Camino Norte Conference game.

'COLD'

"We were just very cold in the first half, that's all there is to say," College of Marin coach John Panagakis, obviously disappointed, said.

Guard Pat Purcell, a standout for Terra Linda High School last year, played his best game for the Tars this season, pouring in 24 points, including the bucket that tied the game in regulation time.

Santa Rosa jumped out in front by as much as four points in the overtime period but it was a pair of free throws that proved to be the winners as the Tars missed a panic shot with five seconds to go that would have tied it again.

17 POINTS

Center Pat Schafer added 17 points for the Tars while Steve Tiedeman, averaging 28 points a game for the Bearcubs, got 23.

The loss droppped College of Marin to a 3-3 Camino Norte Conference record while Santa Rosa pushed up to 4-2.

College of Marin Scoring — Shafer, 8-1-17; Seidenberg, 4-0-8; Tait, 2-2-6; Purcell, 10-4-24; McCart, 3-0-6; Ravani, 3-3-9; Lindquist, 0-1-1; Tyson, 1-5-7. Totals: 31-16-78.

Santa Rosa Scoring — Farrell, 5-9-19; Wyatt, 2-0-4; Tiedeman, 8-7-23; James, 8-1-17; Bourdeaux, 4-0-8; Todd, 1-0-2; Mache, 2-3-7. Totals: 30-20-80.

Halftime Score: Santa Rosa 40, College of Marin 32.

Seals Start Doing Some Pushing

MINNEAPOLIS-St. PAUL (AP) — The Oakland Seals, pushed around early in the National Hockey League season, are now doing some pushing of their own.

They won their second straight,4 -1 over Minnesota in a fight-filled contest Sunday, and now have lost only once in their last six contests.

The Seals, who are idle until they entertain the West Division leading St. Louis Blues Wednesday, have moved to within one-point of fourth place in West.

If they can dislodge fourth-place Pittsburgh, it will mean a berth in the post- season playoffs.

Mike Laughton's three- goal hat trick sparked the Seals over the North Stars, matching teammate Earl Ingarfield's hat trick Friday night against Toronto.

Seals goalie Gary Smith shared the limelight with Laughton, turning away 42 North Star shots before the game ended in a brawl, with no serious injuries.

Don O'Donoghue assisted on all three Laughton goals. He also assisted in a fist fight, teaming with Gary Jarrett to take on Minnesota's Bill Goldsworthy and Bill Orban with four minutes to play.

Thirty seconds later, another fight broke out — between the Seals' Gerry Ehman and Norm Ferguson against Goldworthy and the North Stars' Barry Gibbs.

Order was restored but then J. P. Parise of the Stars and Bert Marshall of the Seals got into a harmless shoving match.

End Of A Serial In Prep Basketball

Redwood, San Rafael Triumph

Marin County's only nighttime continuing high school basketball serial came to its second and last chapter Saturday night and the underdogs, after some hopeful moments in one case, suffered their usual fate worse than winning.

Which is losing.

The continuing sagas of Redwood-Terra Linda and San Rafael-Tamalpais, one pre-empted totally, the other interrupted in the middle of things due to power blackouts Friday, wound up with Redwood, the Marin County Athletic League leader, smashing Terra Linda, 80-52, and San Rafael, after trailing by as much as 15 points as late as the third quarter, overhauling Tamalpais, 54-50.

RALLY

San Rafael was having an awful time on both nights. Trailing by 15-9 when the blackout struck Friday night, the Bulldogs picked up where they left off Saturday, falling behind by 30-17 at the half, and by 15 into the third quarter.

The Bulldogs finally went ahead 51-50 with a little over a minute left on a steal and bucket by Lowell Widmer. Three free throws, one by Bruce D'Ambra and two by Don Duryee clinched it.

The 6-8 Duryee, held to three points in the two-day first half, rambled for 15 points in the second half while Bruce Nave chipped in with 16. Bill Secor of Tamalpais led all scorers with 21 points, while Brigg Skulman, who did a fine first-half job on Duryee, had 12 for the Indians.

BIG LEAD

Terra Linda might as well not have come back Saturday as Redwood roared off to a 22-9 lead, held the Trojans to just 13 field goals and shot 46 per cent from the field with four starters hitting in double figures ,topped by 18 each from Jerry Piro and center Scott Trobbe.

Joe Casteel and Gary Wall had 15 each for Terra Linda.

The results left the stage pretty much set for Friday, when Redwood and San Rafael clash at San Rafael at 8:15 p.m.

'Secret' Draft Not So Secret

LOS ANGELES AP — Pete Maravich, the nation's leading collegiate scorer, has been selected by the Carolina Cougars in a "secret" American Basketball Association draft, it was reported Sunday.

The Los Angeles Times said the first two rounds of the draft were drawn up weeks ago but that no names had been released. The Times printed a list of the two rounds.

Maravich, college basketball's second all-time high scorer, was Carolina's top pick. The Cougars have assertedly been interested in getting Pete and his father Press in a package deal. Press would presumably coach the Cougars. He currently coaches his son at Louisiana State.

Rich Mount, Purdue's high-scoring guard, was listed as a first-round pick of the Indiana Pacers and the New York Nets took Bob Lanier as its territorial selection. Lanier is St. Bonaventure's 6-foot-11 center.

UCLA's only senior, guard John Vallely, was Denver's only pick. The Rockets lost their first pick by signing Spencer Haywood last year before he had completed his senior collegiate season.

Others listed as first-round picks were Dave Cowens, Florida State, Los Angeles Stars; John Hummer, Princeton, Miami Floridians; Mike Malloy, Davidson, Pittsburgh Pipers; Dan Issel, Kentucky, Kentucky Colonels; San Lacey, New Mexico State, New Orleans Bucs; Bobby Croft, Tennessee, Dallas; and Charlie Scott, North Carolina, Washington.

It's An Early Start For Dodger Workouts

LOS ANGELES (UPI)— Southern California area members of the Los Angeles Dodgers open tri-weekly workouts today which will continue until the team leaves for Vero Beach, Fla., Feb. 21.

The informal drills will be held Mondays, Wednesday and Fridays at Dodger Stadium, cice president Al Campanis announced, and will be climaxed by a five-inning game with the University of Southern California Feb. 15.

Dodger coach Jim Gilliam, Spokane farm club manager Tom Lasorda and Albuquerque farm club manager Del Crandall will be in charge of the workouts.

COACHES DENY IT

No Meeting With Blacks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Darrell Royal of the University of Texas and four other head football coaches at major colleges have denied they met with black coaches in Washington Jan. 12 prior to the American Football Coaches Association Convention.

Royal also said Saturday night that statements attributed to him were "a vicious invention." He said he was in Austin, Tex., that night attending national champion Texas' annual football banquet and did not arrive in Washington until Jan. 13.

The coaches, in addition to Royal, are John Pont of Indiana University, Lloyd Eaton of Wyoming, Paul "Bear" Bryant of Alabama and Cal Stoll of Wake Forest.

Head Coach Tom Caldwell of Elizabeth City, N.C., State told The Associated Press Jan. 12 that black coaches had invited the five major college coaches to meet with them to discuss the possibility of gettinf blacks named to postseason all-star coaching staffs.

Royal said in his statement Saturday night he was quoted "as telling the black coaches at this meeting, 'You have not been publicized by your public relations people and the black coach has not reached the point where his coaching is as scientific as it is in the major colleges.'"

The Texas coach added that "such thoughts are not in my heart, and I could not have made these statements. The whole thing is a vicious invention."

DENIAL

Both Royal and Pont said they did not receive invitations. Pont said he and Stoll were "the only two of the five coaches in Washington when the meeting was reportedly held" and that "I was having dinner that night with my brother and Stoll also had another engagement."

Bob Greene of The AP's Milwaukee bureau said Saturday Caldwell approached him the night of Jan. 12 at the coaches convention hotel in Washington an described what Caldwell said had occurred at a meeting of the five white coaches and several black coaches.

Caldwell's account included the quoted material attributed to Royal, Greene said.

Greene said Caldwell introduced him to two other black men wearing tags bearing the names of Cy "Jack" McClaren of Bethune-Cookman, Fla., College and Eddie Robinson of Grambling. These two men, Greene said, repeated word-for-word everything Caldwell had told him.

Greene said Caldwell told him at the same time the American football Coaches Association's executive committee had attended and that the committee said it would study the proposal to hire blacks for all-star coaching positions.

W. D. Murray, the AFCA's executive director, told The AP that no members of the organization's executive board met with black coaches at the convention.

Murray said, "It's absolutely untrue."

COACH SEES HOPE

French Whip U.S. Skiers

MEGEVE, France (AP) — The powerful French men's ski team shellacked their U.S. rivals Sunday but Coach Don Henderson was encouraged by his up and coming young American talent.

Frenchman Patrick Russel, Alian Penz and Henri Brechu took the first three places in the 26th Megeve Prix special slalom, despite their grief over the death of teammate Michel Bozon in the downhill race Friday.

The Germans and Austrians placed two each in the top 10.

The best American performance down the 550-meter course with a 175-meter drop through 54 gates in the first heat and 55 in the second, was by Bob Cochran of Richmond, Vt.

Cochran finished eighth after starting the second heat in 44th place. His second run of 42.10 seconds was the best of the day.

Cochran also placed second in combined slalom and downhill totals. Heini Messner, of Austria, who took 10th after a second place finish in the downhill, was first in the combined.

B-team members Steve Lathrop of Amherst, N.H., and Tyler Palmer of Kearsage, N.H., placed 11th and 15th, respectively, in the slalom and were added to the U.S. team for the World Championships in Val Gardena, Italy, Feb. 7-13.

"It was a wonderful enthusiastic performance by the young boys," Henderson said. "We've had 20 boys in Europe all along, hoping to find some usable talent. I think we've found something."

Russel, France's sensational 23-year-old World Cup leader, was clocked in 85.85 for the two runs, despite weariness and grief over Bozon, probably his best friend.

The victory increased Russel's World Cup points to 140. Gustavo Thoeni of Italy, second with 107, did not race Sunday.

"I did not sleep for two nights," Russel said, referring to Bozon's death and a 15-hour trip from Austria where he won an international customs officers' competition. The French team attended a special Mass for Bozon Sunday and will attend the funeral today.

Penz completed the two runs in 86.93 and Brechu in 87.30.

Cochran's time was 88.95 and Lathrop's 89.33 after starting the second run in 78th place. Palmer finished with a 90.40 total after starting the final run in 46th position.

Dennis McCoy of Mammoth Mountain, Calif., finished 17th in 90.69.

Perry Signs 1970 Giants Contract

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Star right- hander Gaylord Perry, 31, has signed his San Francisco Giants contract for an estimated $65,000, increasing the ranks of signed Giants to 18.

The increase of some $15,000 reflected an outstanding season for Perry in 1969.

He had a 19-14 record and an earned run average of 2.49. He also recorded the most complete games in his career, 26, led the Giant pitchers with 233 strikeouts, and led the National League in innings pitched with 325.

Also signing, the Giants announced Sunday, were catcher Jack Hiatt and four rookies — shortstop Bob Hiese, catcher Mike Sadek, pitcher Gary Lavelle and outfielder Jim Howarth.

Maravich Closes In On Career Point Mark

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pistol Pete Maravich of Louisiana State continues his assault on the college career scoring record tonight, needing only 69 points to replace Oscar Robertson as the all-time leader.

Maravich, who averages 47 points a game, could possibly break the record at home tonight against Tennessee, but it would require a super effort against one of the nation's top defensive teams.

It is more likely that Maravich will bridge the gap between second place and immortality and top the 9,273 total achieved by Robertson at the University of Cincinnati when LSU hosts Mississippi Saturday night.

Maravich whipped into second place, 21 points past Elvin Hayes on the all-time list, by scoring 55 for a 2,905 career total in LSU's 109-96 loss to No. 2 ranked Kentucky Saturday night.

At San Antonio, meanwhile, little St. Mary's of Texas surprised Hayes' alma mater, Houston, the nation's seventh ranked team, 76-66 in one of the most notable upsets of the season. St. Mary's, a college division standout, overcame an early 12-point deficit and dealt the Cougars their second loss in 14 games.

Elsewhere, top-ranked UCLA whipped Wyoming 115-77 at Los Angeles with Curtis Rowe's 25 points and Sidney Wicks' 24 leading the charge.

St. Bonaventure ranked fourth in The Associated Press poll, kept pace with UCLA and Kentucky on the dwindling unbeaten list by pounding Canisius 62-49 and No. 5 New Mexico State, 16-1, stopped Texas-El Paso 90-77.

No. 8 Marquette, 13-1, beat Xavier of Ohio 82-73 and No. 10 North Carolina State, also 13-1, nipped Duke 77-76.

Warriors To Host Hawks

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — With the fifth-place Phoenix Suns nipping at their heels in the National Basketball Association's Western Division, the injury-plagued San Francisco Warriors go against the front-running Atlanta Hawks tonight in the Cow Palace, 8 o'clock.

Lack of board control cost the Warriors Saturday night as they bowed to Phoenix 109-99. A crowd of 6,466 fans watched the team, back in the Oakland Arena for the first time since towering Nate Thurmond left the lineup for a knee operation a week ago.

The Suns placed a lid on the bucket with long-armed Jimmy Fox and Neal Walk, a pair of 6-foot-10 Giants, blocking San Francisco's attempts to score from the outside.

The Warriors managed only 84 shots from the floor while Phoenix got off 112, mostly on follow attempts by Fox, Walk and Connie Hawkins.

Hawkins led all scorers with 25 points, sparking a Sun streak in which the game was broken wide open by a 28-17 spurt in the third period.

Jerry Lucas led San Francisco with 18.

Back To Normal At Sonoma State

This season's normal state of affairs returned to Sonoma State's basketball team.

The Cossacks, who scored a rare and euphoric victory Friday night over Humboldt State, got it back in kind Saturday when they visited the same team Saturday, 95-70.

The Cossacks are now 1-5 in Far Western Conference play and 2-13 on the season. Ramon Salomon again led scorers for Sonoma State, pouring in 27 points.

Middleweights In A Rematch

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Middleweights Jimmy Lester an Rocky Hernandez, who battled to a draw Dec. 1, meet again tonight in another 10-round bout at Civic Auditorium.

Hernandez is from Mexico, Lester from San Francisco. Two other 10-round bouts are scheduled on the card, which starts at 8 o'clock.

PAC-8 BASKETBALL

Some Key Games On Tap

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

From now on, for California's entries in the Pacific-8 Conference, every bounce of the basketball will count in the standings. And after one more weekend of rest or games against outsiders, the same goes for the teams from the Beaver and Evergreen states.

The Golden State's entries will be at each other's throats this weekend when UCLA and Southern Cal, tied for the Pac-8 lead with 2-0 records, head north for Friday night games against California and Stanford respectively.

On Saturday Stanford is host to the nation's No. 1 ranked Bruins in a regionally televised game and USC visits Cal. Each Northern California squad is 1-2 in Pac-8 play this year.

Oregon will have next weekend off. The Ducks can use the time to think about how they plan to improve their 1-3 conference record and get out of last place. Oregon State's Beavers, 2-2 will entertain Hawaii and Portland, a pair of nonconference foes.

Further north, Washington, 3-2, and Washington State, 2-3, are idle Friday night. On Saturday both will be on the road, the Huskies facing the Montana Grizzlies and WSU's Cougars going against Idaho's Vandals.

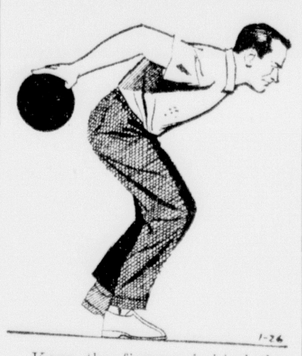
Except for some tactics and the number of points in some of the final scores, last weekend's action went generally as expected.

UCLA whipped stubborn UC Santa Barbara 89-80 and destroyed Wyoming 115-77 to extend the unbeaten Bruins' victory string this season to 14.

In other games, Southern Cal outscored host Arizona State 108-95 Saturday night, Oregon State dumped Oregon 78-73 Friday night before the Ducks rebounded to beat OSU 79-64 the next night in nonconference games for the Chancellor's Cup. Washington edged WSU 37-36 in a Saturday night slowdown battle, the only Pac-8 game of the weekend.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



Keep the fingers behind the ball all the way. Failure to do so, letting the hand turn just before release, will often produce a ball that fades just before reaching the pocket. This is the kind of ball that is especially frustrating, for it will seem to hit the target, yet leave the 5-pin or even the 5-7 split.

Rain Pushes Tennis Finals To Tomorrow

SYDNEY (AP) — Rain forced postponement today of the men's singles final in the combined New South Wales and Australian Tennis Championship between fourth-seeded Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., and Australian Richard Crealy, seeded 12th. The final was rescheduled for Tuesday.

Earlier today Crealy had won his semifinal match against Britain's Roger Taylor 6-3, 9-11, 8-6, 3-6 8-6 in the completion of Sunday's suspended match.

Ashe advanced to the finals after Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., had to forfeit in the fourth set of their semifinal match Sunday.

Ralston retired with a painful sciatic nerve with Ashe leading 6-3, 8-10, 6-3, 2-1.

Crealy was leading Taylor 6-3, 9-11, 8-6 when their seifinal match Sunday was postponed until today because of approaching darkness.

The postponement resulted in a clash between Taylor and tournament referee Cliff Sproule. Taylor wanted the match continued.

The men's doubles final was won today by Bob Lutz of Los Angeles and Stan Smith of Pasadena, Calif., who defeated Australians John Alexander and Phil Dent 8-6, 6-3, 6-4.

The match was interrupted by rain three times and all four players wore spikes.

The women's singles final between Margaret Court and fellow Australian Kerry Melville also was postponed after Miss Melville posted an 8-6, 6-4 victory over Winnie Shaw of Britain in their semifinal.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Dividend Qualified By Debt Restriction

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Brown Company has paid no preferred dividend since 1968. When dividends accumulate are they ever paid? Should these shares be held?—M.K.

A. After a series of quarterly losses Brown Company negotiated the sale of its Canadian subsidiary and several other operations. Proceeds from these sales were used in part to meet debt and interest obligations. Under terms of these loans, annual loan prepayment of $3.75 million must be earned in the preceding fiscal year before preferred dividends are distributed. On that basis it will be some time before the dividend is resumed and the $2.1 million in arrears is repaid.

Preferred stockholders voting as a class can, upon default of six quarterly dividends (five have already been passed), elect two company directors. This puts Gulf & Western, holder of 69 per cent of the common and 41 per cent of the preferred, in a good position to seat two more directors. G&W, a conglomerate with substantial land development interests, is no doubt attracted by Brown's extensive holdings in Northern New England where land development is gaining momentum.

Hold only if you can afford risk.

Q. I have held Stauffer Chemical through the recent decline and seen my investment lose about one third of its value. Many reports on the industry are negative, but I feel the low price has already discounted this. Should I sell?—J.R.

A. You have actually answered your own question but apparently don't trust your judgment. Now trading near the bottom of both its cyclic swings and earnings multiple, Stauffer's shares have discounted much of the uncertainty surrounding the chemical industry.

Long a leading industrial and agricultural chemical producer, Stauffer is placing increasing emphasis on higher margin specialty chemicals and plastics. To this end two firms were acquired and a jointly owned company formed in recent years. While 1969 results will probably closely duplicated those of 1968, prospects for the 1970s are enhanced by the company's concentration on its more profitable lines. I would rate this a buy-hold.

$64 Million In Permits For Building

Marin County ended up 1969 with over $64 million in total building permits issued — an increase of 18.2 per cent over the 1968 total of $54.2 million.

Totals were up in all categories, according to figures from the Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau. Residential construction totaled $37.5 million, commercial $12.9 million and miscellaneous permits $13.6 million. San Rafael incorporated and unincorporated areas showed a total of almost $18 million in all categories.

Novato's total was $11.4 million, mostly residential. Tiburon, Belvedere and the Tiburon peninsula totaled $6 million; Larkspur $5.9 million; and Mill Valley $5.5 million. Greenbrae and Kentfield reached $5.2 million.

In other areas, Sausalito totaled out at almost $1.9 million, Corte Madera $1.4 million, San Anselmo $915,100, Ross $880,700 and Fairfax $876,900. West Marin's total was $1.8 million and miscellaneous incorporated areas showed $2.1 million.

December, though down from the previous month did record $3.7 million, slightly up from the 1968 figure of $3.5 million. Of this, $1.9 million was for residential construction and $1.3 million for commercial building.

Wall Street In Another Downhill Day

NEW YORK (UPI) — Worry over inflation and lower corporate profits pulled stocks sharply lower Monday in moderate turnover.

Shortly before the final gong, the UPI marketwide indicator was off 1.22 per cent on 1,535 issues traded. Of these, 998 declined and 294 advanced.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average of 30 selected blue chips showed a loss of 6.86 at 768.68 near the close.

A turnover of around 10,500,000 shares was slightly below Friday's pace.

IBM was in the minus column, adding to its side of 13 3-4 last week. It closed at 348 1-2 off 7 1-2.

General Motors closed at 65 3-4 off 1-4. Chrysler was off 1-2 at 29 7-8 and Ford closed at 39 1-2 off 1-4.

Steels were generally lower. U.S. Steel closed at 32 7-8 off 7-8; Republic Steel was 33 5-8 off 1-2 and Bethlehem Steel closed at 26 1-8 off 3-8.

Standard Oil of New Jersey was up 1-8 at 60 3-8 and Texaco closed at 28 1-4 up 3-8.

Profit Sharing Firm Open Branch On Lincoln Avenue

A newly opened office in San Rafael is a branch of PROFIT SHARING CONSULTANTS, INC. at 1330 Lincoln Avenue.

CARL BALMA of Forest Knoll is in charge and has been with the company about 18 months.

Services are related to consultation work on pensions and employee benefit plans for corporations and doctors.

The company is headquartered om San Francisco and has been incorporated since 1964. It maintains a number of branch offices in California and several franchised offices in the east.

IT APPEARS that the Powerful Downtown Association in San Francisco is now pretty much in the hands of Marinites (who will certainly go all out for better transportation between here and the city).

RUSSELL D. KEIL of Tiburon has been elected president. Serving with him are S.E. Onorato of Sleepy Hollow, vice president; ERNEST J. YOUNG of Novato, secretary; also directors NEIL DERROUGH of San Rafael, JOSEPH FONTANA of Sausalito, JACK PODESTA of Sleepy Hollow and L.A. SCHULTZ of Tiburon. LLOYD PFLUEGER of Belvedere is manager of the association.

KEIL WILLIAMS

WILLIAM C. WILLIAMS of Kentfield has been appointed investment officer in charge of the bond division at the San Francisco home office of INDUSTRIAL INDEMNITY CO. He was previously assistant investment officer.

KENNETH C. HICKEN of San Rafael has been promoted to the newly created post of manager of marketing and planning in the dairy division of FOREMOST FOODS CO., San Francisco. He joined the division in 1965 as group manager for fresh and frozen products. Recently he has been division marketing manager. Before coming with Foremost he was marketing manager of Stokely Van Camp Co. and with the Birds Eye division of General Foods Corp.

GEORGE T. MINNS of Petaluma has been named assistant manager of WELLS FARGO BANK'S San Rafael office. He joined the bank in 1953 at Martinez, has served at several peninsula branches and was formerly assistant manager of the bank's Marin Contract Center.

MINNS FORD

J. G. (Mike) FORD of Mill Valley has been appointed district manager for INFORMATION SYSTEMS DESIGN, a large Bay Area computer utility. He was priviously senior marketing representative.

NEW ASSISTANT to the planning director at COLLEGE OF MARIN, Kentfield, is MARTIN C. PAUL of San Francisco. He was previously with American Seating Co. in sales and interior planning for colleges. Before that he was with several Chicago and San Francisco firms in programming, design ,production and architecture.
